Good and bad news on tax rates in GC

Granite City property owners will pay less taxes for school purposes this year, but will lose part of the gain in a higher city tax, it was disclosed this week in new tax rates fixed by the office of County Clerk Eudalia Holz.

The Granite City School Board was informed during its meeting Monday night that a new tax rate of $3.79 per $100 assessed valuation has been fixed by the county clerk's office for the 1973 tax year for which collections will be made this summer.

City officials, meeting at the same time at City Hall, were notified by Miss Holz that the new 1973 tax rate for corporate purposes has been set at $1.231 per $100 valuation.

The new school district rate is a reduction of 20.1 cents per $100 valuation below the $3.91 rate extended for the 1972 tax year and used as the basis for tax bills paid in 1973.

Granite City's new municipal rate, however, is an increase of 8.9 cents over the $1.142 rate extended a year ago.

Among other new rates announced by Miss Holz was that for Chouteau Township, set at 28.2 cents per $100 valuation, down 3.1 cents below last year's rate of 31.3 cents.

No talks set in Venice school strike

No meetings have been held in the four-day-old strike by Venice teachers that has idled 700 students and 80 employees, and no negotiations are scheduled at present, Supt. John Pier said today.

"All classes are down completely, and there have been no calls from the union," Pier said. Members of American Federation of Teachers Local 965 have been picketing since Monday morning and students joined in the picketing yesterday, carrying signs urging that the school district negotiate with the teachers. Most of the students present backed the teachers' request.

A raise of six per cent or $485 to $888 is sought for 1973-74 over the existing schedule of $8,095 to $14,800 in effect three years. A $200 bonus for the current year has been offered by the school board.

School officials cite three tax rate election defeats and say they are borrowing nearly $400,000 to complete the current year. They agree on the need for a raise due to rising living costs.

K. Duane Rankin, director of the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center also closed by the strike, said it may be forced to close permanently if the work stoppage continues. The center is funded primarily by state and federal funds and serves 225 adults.

The levy for 1973 was $733,478 less than the $8,760,423 levy extended the previous year

Plan town hall, education office on Central site

A proposal to donate the abandoned Central Junior High School, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue, to Granite City Township for demolition of the building and construction of a new township building was given tentative approval by the Granite City Board of Education at its meeting Monday night.

In return for donation of the building and lot, the township is offering the school district free use of a portion of the proposed building for five years, to house the district's Special Education Program.

Special Education now is renting space at 2801 Madison Ave., for $550 per month, a figure which represents at least $33,000 in rent the district would save by accepting the township's offer of five years free space.

Central School was abandoned last year after the district discovered the building would cost more than $100,000 to bring into compliance with the state's School Life Safety Code.

Tully A. Heubner, director of buildings and grounds, told the board that about $55,000 had been spent there in the past three years for necessary repairs in order to keep the school open.

Since the building has been abandoned, the walls and ceilings have begun to crack and vandals have caused extensive damage inside and outside, Heubner said.

"I'd like to get rid of the building as soon as possible. I'm afraid of its liability. There just is no way to keep children out of there and someone is going to get hurt," Heubner said.

B. J. Davis, superintendent of schools, agreed, saying all utilities to the building have been halted and "without heat, the building is becoming a derelict."

The proposal for the school district to donate the school to the township was made by the township's building committee, a group which includes Heubner and William Schooley, attorney for both the township and the school district.

Schooley said he saw no legal problems involved in the transfer of the school to the township.

Heubner estimated the building would cost at least $30,000 to demolish. Board members questioned whether the school district would have an opportunity to lease the space in the township building after the five-year rent-free period is over. Davis and the administration were instructed to meet with the residents of Granite City including facilities for senior citizens' organizations.

It is our opinion that the building should be constructed in the immediate downtown area because of the uncertainty of future township government.

If township government were to be phased out in the next decade, the building will be close enough to the present city hall to allow the city to utilize the building as a city hall or city hall annex.

Also, construction of the building in the downtown area will present a centralized location for residents and senior citizens' groups which may have need to utilize the building facilities.

We have examined a number of locations and have concluded that the Central School location offers the town the best location to meet the above considerations. We also recognize that Central School is no longer of use to the School District as a teaching facility and that the school district must make disposition of the building in the near future.

The committee suggests that the school district deed the property at Central School to the town of the City of Granite City. The town will demolish the building without delay and will bear the cost of the demolition.

In return, the town will grant 2,000 square feet of office space to the school district for a period of five years, commencing upon the occupancy of the building by the town.

If the above is agreeable please let us know and we will have the town attorney prepare the necessary documents to effect the transfer.

County Deputy Association pledges $15,000 toward new Salvation Army building

A $15,000 pledge by the Madison County Deputy Sheriffs' Association has placed the current Salvation Army building fund drive within $125,000 of its $140,000 objective, it was announced today. Funds are being raised to construct a community center and Salvation Army Corps headquarters, including offices, meeting rooms, a chapel and gymnasium.

An originally announced location at Maryville Road and Glory Lane will not be utilized, it was disclosed.

A new site is to be announced soon. Meanwhile, solicitation by volunteers is continuing under the direction of Chester L. Baker.

The next drive report meeting is scheduled for Monday. Those participating in the meetings include area mayors and members of the deputy sheriffs' group.

The campaign is being conducted solely by volunteers. A professional drive coordinator who was here earlier has concluded his service.

A statement today by Captain Ronald J. Kerley of the local Salvation Army related that "many comments have come my way in regard to the Salvation Army's planned program expansion, both pro and con."

"It seems that from the very onset there has been some concern about where The Salvation Army would relocate. We gave serious consideration to a Maryville Road site because of it being a donated gift."

"With the acceptance of this generous offer, it was a saving to the community because that additional amount of money for purchase of land was then nullified."

"While we are no longer considering this site, I would want it clearly understood that it was not because of adverse comments, some of which were unfounded, that caused us to consider other sites."

"It was wholly because of a water table problem and the fact that it would be impossible to build on this site without causing problems to the surrounding area."

"We are now attempting to secure a site that will be mutually agreeable for the Quad-City area and thus far has been agreed to by the mayors and others associated with the fund-raising campaign now in progress."

"Some have asked just what type of program will be involved in the new facility. There will be an expansion of the programs we offer."

"For example: We will do more extensive work with and on the behalf of the senior citizens of our area, including a ceramics craft room."

"Provision will be made for expanded youth recreation, with game rooms for pool tables and air hockey, ping pong, etc.

"A moderate size gymnasium for overall activities is planned. In the site now being considered, we will have our office there as well, thus eliminating our downtown location; thus, there will be a savings from the operational expense of two facilities."

"A part of the impact of any

Shared funds may go for sewers, salaries

By HARRY BARNES, Press-Record Staff Writer
Granite City's federal revenue sharing funds, earmarked for a series of municipal improvements, may be used instead to finance Nameoki area sewer break repairs and to meet city payrolls, it became apparent during a meeting of the City Council Monday night.

Amid a series of developments in a steadily worsening financial dilemma, council members approved a transfer of $86,283 to meet claims for sick leave and payroll costs for the last half of April, reducing to $37,627 the remaining balance of transferable funds available for operating costs.

At the same time the aldermen were informed of a Monday court ruling by Circuit Judge Harold Greenwood at Edwardsville that the city cannot legally transfer surplus funds from separate levy accounts, a plan proposed by some aldermen to temporarily solve the city's lack of funds.

The remaining balance of $37,627 in the city's operating accounts will be insufficient to meet the payroll for the first half of May, it was learned after the meeting. The city expects an allotment of state sales tax monies about mid-May, but the payroll is due for approval in the council's May 6 meeting.

City Treasurer Paul Rutledge and City Clerk Robert Stevens have recommended the use of federal revenue sharing funds to meet the payrolls, but thus far

Auto license sale lagging

The Granite City Clerk's Office has set special hours for this Saturday for Granite City motorists wishing to purchase city license stickers for vehicles.

Robert W. Stevens, city clerk, said his office will be open from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday to allow more persons to purchase their license stickers early.

Nearly 9,000 persons have yet to purchase the stickers for their vehicles, he said. The office normally sells about 4,000 stickers a year. As of yesterday, only 5,200 persons had obtained the licenses.

Stickers must be purchased before May 15 or a $2.50 penalty is added to the cost of each sticker. The price is $3 for automobiles before that date.

Citizens over 18 displaying driver's licenses and car registrations may purchase license stickers for $1 before the deadline.

Stevens urged motorists to obtain their stickers as soon as possible to avoid last day delays, even longer than in past years.

4-3 votes on 2 school officers

By GARY SCHNEIDER, Press-Record Staff Writer
Donald W. Stucke was retained as president of the Granite City Board of Education, as were all other board officers, during the board's annual reorganization meeting Monday night.

Opposition developed to Stucke's retaining the presidency and to the reelection of L. Monroe Worthen as treasurer, but both were retained on 4-3 votes, after each voted for himself.

George E. Moore Sr. was retained as board secretary on a unanimous vote.

Carl Macios first nominated Stucke to be retained as board president for his second consecutive term. Harold Davis then nominated Moore for the president's post, saying, "Don (Stucke) has done a fine job, but I would just like to see it moved around to those who want it."

Moore declined, saying, "I appreciate your confidence and am flattered to be nominated." Moore cited numerous activities in both state and national education associations in which he participates and added, "I am just afraid a person can spread himself too thin. I would be less than honest if I said I could give the job the type of attention it deserves."

Board member Norman Hall then nominated Davis to serve as president.

A. L. "Pete" Metcalf, requested voting be done on a secret ballot, but William Schooley, attorney for the school district, said he felt a secret ballot would be illegal.

Hall, Davis and Metcalf cast votes for Davis while Worthen, Macios, Moore and Stucke were in the majority in re-electing

Meet May 2 on new trail

A series of public information meetings on the joint federal-state study of the Lewis and Clark Trail was announced Wednesday by the Interior Department's Bureau of Outdoor Recreation office in Denver, Colo.

The trail, a proposed addition to the nationwide system of trails, would follow the historic, 3,643-mile route traversed by Lewis and Clark from Wood River, Ill., to the Pacific Ocean.

The study was authorized by Congress in 1968 under Public Law 90-543, the National Trails System Act, to determine whether or not the trail should be included in the national trails system.

Information sessions will be held for states through which the proposed trail passes—Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington.

Missouri and Illinois citizens will have an opportunity to express their views at a meeting in St. Louis May 2 at 7:30 p.m. at the North Theatre, Jefferson National Expansion Memorial.

Purpose of the meetings is to describe the National Trails System Act and to discuss the study and basic findings of the study team. The meetings also will afford the public an opportunity to express views on the overall trail concept and various alternatives offered.

Oral statements made at the meetings should be accompanied by a written copy for the chairman. Written statements may also be submitted up to 30 days after the meeting by writing to the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, P. O. Box 25387, Denver, Federal Center, Denver, Colo. 80226.

A brochure describing the national trails program and providing details on the Lewis and Clark Trail study with possible alternatives to be considered will be available at each public information meeting. The brochure may also be obtained from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation's Denver office.

Expanded jobs, promotions for women, minority steel plant employees

Nine of the nation's major steel companies have signed an agreement with the federal government to expand job opportunities for minorities and women and to give them almost $31 million in back pay.

The agreement—seen as one of the most significant anti-discrimination settlements obtained by the government—was announced by Attorney General William S. French III, Secretary of Labor Peter J. Brennan and Chairman John H. Powell Jr. of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

The agreement is contained in two consent decrees filed in U.S. District Court in Birmingham, Ala., which resolve an employment discrimination suit filed at the same time.

The nine steelmakers will pay $30,940,000 to an estimated 40,048 employees—blacks, Hispanic Americans, and women—at 249 facilities. Amounts will range from a minimum of $250 to upwards of $2,000, based on length of service and hourly earnings.

Signers of the consent decrees were Allegheny-Ludlum Industries, Inc.; Armco Steel Corp.; National Steel Corp.; Republic Steel Corp.; United States Steel Corp.; Wheelabrator-Frye Inc.; Youngstown Steel & Tube Co. The United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO, also signed one of the consent decrees.

The nine companies, which produce about 73 percent of the raw steel in the United States, employ 347,679 workers, including 52,543 black, 7,646 Hispanic Americans and 10,175 women.

The suit, filed by the Justice Department on behalf of Secretary Brennan and by EEOC, charged the companies and union with violating Executive Order 11246, which prohibits discrimination by federal contractors, and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

The suit said the companies have followed a policy of hiring and assigning employees on the basis of race, color, sex and national origin, with minority and women employees assigned to the less desirable and generally lower-paying jobs with the least opportunity for advancement.

In addition, the suit said the companies engaged in such other discriminatory practices as requiring more stringent qualifications for minority and women employees and failing to provide training and opportunities for advancement to supervisory positions.

The suit said Steelworkers union contracts with the companies also deprive minority and women employees of opportunities to compete with white men for better-paying jobs.

The contracts, the suit said, establish seniority systems based on length of service in occupations, lines of progression, and departments from which the minority and women workers have been excluded or had only limited access.

The consent decrees, approved by U.S. District Judge Sam C. Pointer Jr., contain these provisions:

BACK PAY. The $30,940,000 will be distributed to 34,449 black and Spanish-surnamed male employees who were hired for production and maintenance jobs before 1967, to 5,599 women employees in those jobs now, and to minority and women employees who retired from those jobs during the past two years.

The distribution formula is designed to provide the greatest back pay to employees who were most adversely affected by the discriminatory practices.

Individual payments will be determined by an Audit and Review Committee composed of five company members, five union members and a government representative.

Payment costs will be allocated among the nine companies on the basis of their proportion of minority and women employees to the total of such employees in the GOALS AND TIMETABLES. Goals and timetables are established to increase the number of minority and women workers in jobs where they have been under-utilized.

Half of the openings in trade and craft jobs will be filled by minority and women employees.

In addition, first-year goals call for the hiring of women for 20 percent of all vacancies in production and maintenance jobs, the hiring of minority employees for 15 percent of all vacancies in clerical and technical jobs, and the selection of minority and women employees for 25 percent of the vacancies in supervisory jobs or for management training.

SENIORITY RIGHTS. All future promotions, step-ups, demotions, layoffs, recalls and other practices affected by seniority will be determined by length of service at each plant rather than in a specific unit or department of the plant.

TRANSFER RIGHTS AND EARNINGS PROTECTION. Employees are authorized to transfer to other jobs on a plant-wide basis.

If an employee transfers to a lower-paying job in order to take advantage of greater opportunities for advancement, the employee will retain his or her present wage rate.

TEST VALIDATION. Hiring tests will be validated under current EEOC guidelines on employment selection procedures.

CONTINUING REVIEW. Implementation committees will be established at each plant, composed of at least two union members, one of whom will be a minority member; an equal number of company members; and a government representative.

These committees will assure that the consent decrees are implemented, including the goals and timetables.

The Audit and Review Committee will also provide continuous review of the companies' compliance with the decrees, as well as the need for changes in the new seniority structure.

The decrees are the result of five and a half months of negotiations between the companies, union and government to reform allegedly discriminatory employment practices in the steel industry.

Similar industry-wide equal employment agreements have been obtained from American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and major trucking companies.

Secretary of Labor Peter J. Brennan this week predicted that the agreement "will prove a milestone in the federal government's efforts to assure to every American full equality in employment."

He said it is the largest settlement ever obtained by the government in a case of this kind.

Brennan commented, "I am proud that three government agencies have cooperated in achieving this settlement."

"This high degree of cooperation should reassure citizens that they can bring a problem to one agency of their government and count on a fair and positive solution from the government as a whole."

"As secretary of labor, I am pleased that this case was resolved through voluntary action by nine of the largest steel producers and by the union with which they have collective bargaining agreements. I commend the companies and the union for this exercise of statehood in the public interest.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

"The union's participation ensures that both Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Executive Order 11246 will be complied with in a way most likely to protect the rights of workers and to preserve peaceful labor-management relations in the industry."

"The Labor Department's participation reflects our continuing concern for the rights of all working Americans, regardless of race, religion, sex, age or national origin."

"The department moved in January 1973 to obtain a court order enforcing equality of employment opportunity at the Sparrows Point, Md., works of Bethlehem Steel, one of the participants in this settlement."

"This early action, involving one installation, paved the way for the breakthrough affecting most of this basic industry and its workers."

Third state trauma helicopter

By mid-June, a new $200,000 specially-equipped helicopter is to go into service in Southern Illinois for its residents, critically injured or ill patients to trauma centers.

The Bell Jet Ranger, with a speed of 120 miles an hour, will be based at Carbondale, replacing an older Heli Ranger. Two other Rangers are already based at Elgin, Springfield, and further expansion is possible. Gov. Dan Walker recently released the $200,000 for the purchase.

Duane Moore, chief helicopter pilot in the Department of Transportation's division of aeronautics, said 220 patients have been transported into the helicopters already on duty since the trauma program began two and a half years ago.

The number has increased to nearly one a day, he said, and is still climbing.

Moore said he expects the numbers to go even higher as longer hours of daylight, vacation time, and increasing numbers of relatively inexperienced motorcycle riders on the roads all combine to increase hazards in the summer months.

Last year, he said, one of every four patients carried had been in a motorcycle-oriented accident.

Moore stressed that the numbers of trauma patients carried is only a tiny fraction of the estimated 23,000 critical patients treated since the trauma program was begun.

He said the helicopters actually pay for themselves "five to six times a year" in less dramatic but important time and money saving activities.

The flexible five passenger turbo-shaft craft, with their unique ability to get in and out of unusual places and hover for on-site inspections, makes them useful in selection of highway routes, surveillance of construction projects, flood control programs, bridge site selection and some conservation work.

Less often, they are also called into service to aid the Illinois Bureau of Investigation or the state police in air searches.

While the most publicity has gone to the helicopters in relation to the trauma program, Moore pointed out that the first two were purchased before the trauma concept was envisioned in Illinois, and were bought strictly for their more utilitarian benefits.

Special packs of emergency equipment convert the helicopters to air ambulances in a matter of minutes. The new Bell Ranger being purchased for Carbondale will be so equipped.

Moore said the division is currently trying to determine a "head-of-date" for the aircraft, like that used for other state vehicles that have given maximum service.

Presently, he said, the division is considering trading the helicopters when they have logged 3,000 hours in the air.

The Ranger at Elgin, which is three and a half years old, currently has about 1,300 hours. The two-year-old Bell Ranger based at Springfield has about 1,400 hours, he said.

The two-year-old Bell Ranger said, Bell is expected to start producing what he calls "an ideal" craft, a twin engine turbo-shaft aircraft, with a speed of 180 to 190 miles an hour, carrying eight passengers.

This would allow two stretchers side by side, with room for two attendants plus all necessary equipment for trauma use, without the need to "stack" the stretchers—as must now be done to carry more than one victim at a time.

It is expected to sell for about twice the cost of the present craft, or about $400,000 each.

If the state acquires any of them, Moore said, they will be placed in the fleet as soon as possible, and almost half again the capacity. The Elgin helicopter will probably be reaching the 3,000-hour mark about the time the new craft are available, he said.

In addition to the helicopters, the division operates five ambulances, used chiefly by elected officials.

Monday through Friday.

The newly constructed building will offer about 1,000 square feet of additional space, Stites said. It is considerably larger than the previous ISES office quarters at 2650 Iowa St., where the state agency was located for 12 years prior to moving to the present Avenue address last September.

Persons wishing to contact the Division of Unemployment office quarters by telephone may call a new number—451-2660—starting Monday, Jerome P. Wade, division manager, announced.

The division formerly was listed under the State Employment Service number at 451-5756. The latter number will remain the same, Stites said.

Ill. State Employment moves to new building

The Illinois State Employment Service and Division of Unemployment Compensation will move Friday into their new office building at 2650 Iowa St., Darrell Stites, ISES office manager, said today.

To permit the transfer of records, files and furnishings, the present office at 1920 Edison Ave., will be closed tomorrow during the removal operation, he said.

The State Employment agency and Unemployment Compensation division will reopen Monday at the new location, Stites announced.

Business hours at the new office will remain the same as before, with services available from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

Dedicate Kaskaskia River area July 20

The Kaskaskia River projects of navigation, lock and dam, will be dedicated on Saturday, July 20, with ceremonies at the lock and dam at 11 a.m., a dedication parade at New Athens at 2 p.m., and a dinner program at the Belle Clair Exposition Hall, Belleville, at 7:30 p.m.

Numerous federal and state political dignitaries will be in attendance.

Those attending the events are being urged to "spend a day or two where the history of Illinois began, see the country where George Rogers Clark and his Kentucky Long Knives took Kaskaskia from the English on July 4, 1774, and visit the Mission of the Immaculate Conception on Kaskaskia Island."

A church bell on display at the mission was cast in France and sent to Kaskaskia by King Louis XV in 1741. It is 15 years older than the U.S. Liberty Bell.

Kaskaskia was the first state capital of Illinois in 1818. In the 18th century, Kaskaskia was known as "queen city of the West."

Today, the Kaskaskia River, now a navigable stream to Fayetteville, Ill., of 37 miles, is the heart of an industrial area. The area includes coal mines, grain elevators, livestock, dairy and grain farms, peach and apple orchards, oil and gas fields, rock quarries, grey iron foundries, electric power plants, flour mills and the manufacture of gas stoves, furnaces, shoes, clothing and food products.

STUDY CHINESE FOOD Chinese cookery will be the topic when the Isabel Bevier Unit of the Homemakers Extension Association meets at 7:30 tonight at the home of Mrs. Nelson Ross, 1509 Richmond Ave.

Vondera

Mo., and has traveled back and forth across the bridge span at Venice daily since 1945.

"I think I own that bridge," he said jokingly. His investment in it has been considerable.

The cost of bridge tickets has risen from 25 cents for two trips to $4 for 20 trips since he started traveling the route almost three decades ago, he commented.

Vondera, who celebrated his 65th birthday on April 13, related, "It's amazing how many things you can do on the job so much easier than we used to do them."

"Everything is much cleaner—altogether different now, and very new."

He was assistant foreman in the Press-Record composing room for 10 years and for most of his tenure at the local paper he has worked as a floorman, assembling lines of molded metal type into desired arrangements in page forms.

For more than 25 years, Vondera was responsible for arranging the type in advertisements published in the Press-Record by such firms as Leader's Department Store, Tri-City Grocery Co., and Carps' Department Store.

"These stores were part of my job each issue of the paper," he recalled.

When he first came to the Press-Record in 1945 the shop area was somewhat dark and dingy, he said. "The walls were black from ink in some areas."

"Suspended lights with green and white shades hung over the large, hot metal typesetting machines."

"You can't believe the differences in here," he said, gazing around at the present shop area with its green-yellow carpeted and beige tile floor, buff colored walls, dropped ceilings with recessed panel lighting and the latest compact, computerized equipment.

The retiree has been a member of the International Typographical Union, St. Louis Local 8, since entering the trade. He received his 40-year pin and citation from the ITU in 1972.

He started by serving a five-year apprenticeship at the Siegrist Printing Co. in St. Louis and worked at the Missouri far the council has not authorized this action.

City Attorney George Pilcotti in a ruling given by the council Monday night held the city legally could use its revenue sharing funds to pay for sewer break repairs in the Nameoki area.

Noting that C. E. Townsend took over operation of the newspaper at about the same time he started at the Press-Record, Vondera said, "Mr. Townsend was the best boss you could ever have. I have enjoyed every single year I have worked here."

Townsend, once editor-publisher of the Press-Record, officially ended his association with the newspaper last week after 47 years.

Red has a son, two stepsons and three grandchildren. His first wife, Dorothy, died a few years ago and he later married his wife, Moira, a widow of several years.

His son, Wayne Vondera, lives in Olathe, Kan., and his stepsons, Harvey Schmidt and Norman Kotera, reside with their families in the St. Louis area.

His grandchildren are Denise Schmidt, 11, and Edward and Kerry Kotera, 15 years and six months old, respectively.

Rutledge refused to make such a transfer, however, maintaining that a transfer of separate levy funds to the operating accounts was illegal.

On the treasurer's suggestion, the council filed a friendly suit against Rutledge in circuit court. Judge Greenwood ruled in Rutledge's favor Monday.

Records show that the city, while it is virtually bankrupt in its operating accounts, has total balances of $765,817 in three revenue sharing accounts.

These include a balance of $183,776 in funds received for the second entitlement period, $185,899 in funds of the third entitlement period and $272,941 in funds of the fourth period, plus $121,166 in fourth entitlement monies received only a few weeks ago.

Monies received for the first, second and third entitlement periods were budgeted in the 1973-74 appropriation but since the city begins its new fiscal year on May 1 the money will comprise balances which could be diverted to sewer repair costs and possibly to payrolls.

Sonnenberg retiring

At Sonnenberg, Prather Junior High School physical education instructor, school athletic director, head football coach, assistant track coach and sponsor of the Prather Junior High Letterman's Club, submitted his resignation to the Granite City Board of Education and it was accepted with regrets by the board Monday night.

Other resignations accepted were from Janice Bell, a home economics teacher at Granite City High School, Joyce Berger, a special education teacher, and Louise Palau who presently is on leave of absence.

Retirees approved were for Ruby Foster, a Logan School teacher, Violet Jeffers, a McKinley School teacher, Patricia Ladd, a Logan School teacher, Lucille Arkebaue, a Latin and English teacher at GCHS North, and John Duckworth, a cafeteria worker.

Requests for leaves of absence were granted to Janet Warrent, a Lake School teacher, and Ellen Brokaw, a Marshall School teacher.

The board hired Edward Lance, 2231 Lee Ave., as a custodian for the next school year.

A special meeting of the board of education was called for Monday which will be a closed hearing on the expulsion of a pupil from GCHS South.

Weimaraner dog being sought

A female Weimaraner, a large gray short-haired sporting dog, bit Robert Coble, 16, of 2817 S. 22nd St., who will be forced to locate rabies shots if the dog is not found.

The incident took place at 7:30 p.m. Monday near the Tri-City Center. The dog was owned by the dog and is believed to be a woman accompanied by two young girls in a pickup truck.

Those who are asked to call 890 to report if the dog has been immunized.

Other top awards were made to Ron Barry for best design; Donnie Schoelbo, best paint job; and Ken Rapp, most original.

Thirty-five cubs entered the competition and each received an award.

The opening ceremony was led by Mrs. Evelyn Mynst's Den which recited the pledge of allegiance.

Cubmaster Ben Miller presented awards to: Greg Hargrove, Jeff Bader and Ray Takmajian, wolf badges; Donnie Schoelbo, Jeff Bader and Don Kaltmeyer, arrow badges; and David Nichols, Tim Mih, Dennis Duffin and Billy Rayner, foresters; Scott Ash, geologist; Todd Baunmeyer and Tim Rozycki, aquanauts; and Dennis Duffin, David Nichols, Billy Rayner and Tim Mih and Todd Webb, traveler.

Webelos led the group in singing America and refreshments were served by Mrs. Helen Miller's Den 4 to conclude the program.

Armed man robs drive-in An armed robber stole about $50 cash from Baker's Drive-In, 2000 S. 22nd St., at 3:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Cindy Ward, a cashier at the drive-in, said a man entered, showed a chromium-plated double-barreled pistol and told her to give him all the money quickly.

She said he took the cash and fled on foot west on 14th Street.

The robber was described as about 5 feet, 10 inches tall, having broad-shoulder-length hair, wearing a mustache and wearing a brown leather coat.

Tax rates

The new school rate includes an extension of $2.57 per $100 for educational purposes, based on a levy of $5,630,400.

The new building fund rate is 37.47 cents per $100 under a levy of $787,500, compared to last year's 37.5 cents under a levy of $862,500.

Bulk of the cut in the school rate was in the extension for bonds and interest. The 1973 levy was $1,019,875, resulting in a new rate of 48.52 cents per $100 under a levy of $1,019,875.

Last year the rate of 65 cents was based on a levy of $1,365,123 for bond and interest payment.

This year's rate for transportation is 12 cents, same as last year, while the rate for municipal retirement is set at 19.47 cents, up from last year's 16.41 cents.

The new rate for junior college is 6.44 cents per $100 based on a levy of $1,019,875, compared with last year's 4.18-cent rate based on an $87,400 levy.

There is no school rate this year for fire prevention (5 cents last year) or special education (6 cents last year).

The new Granite City corporate rate of $1.21 includes a rate extension of 5.22 cents for police protection, the first such levy made by the city. Under city became a "home rule" community, it had no authority to make such a levy.

The city rate for the general fund was set at 22.93 cents on a levy of $397,128, compared to last year's rate of 27.32 cents. The breakdown of the $1.21 corporate rate, with last year's comparison shown in parentheses, includes:

Bonds and interest, 9.58 cents (9.72); street lighting, 5 cents (3.28); police protection, 5.22 cents (none); fire protection, 16.06 cents (16.39); street and bridge, 5.85 cents (6.56); retirement, 19.47 cents (16.41); garbage, 12.5 cents (13.12); sewer maintenance, 5.22 cents (none); civil defense, 57 of 1 cent (26 of 1 cent); fire pensions, 11.07 cents (9.74 cents); police pensions, 7.24 cents (6.43 cents); library, 19.92 cents (14.21).

Chouteau Township officials were informed the new town rate of 26.2 cents includes a rate of 18.2 cents for town purposes and 10 cents for general assistance purposes. The total rate was based on an assessed valuation of $28,372,299.

Last year's Chouteau rate included 15.86 cents for town purposes, 10 cents for general assistance and $4.44 cents for the township's participation in sewer planning. The sewerage cost was paid last year and was not extended again this year.

The rates assessed this week were among the first extended by the county clerk's office which began computing new tax rates for all Missouri County taxing bodies after receiving notice of a 1.0 multiplying factor by the State Department of Local Government Affairs.

in 3 robberies

Granite City police Monday filed two additional armed robbery charges against Jack Jones, 21, of Ferguson, Mo., who was arrested Friday and charged with the armed robbery March 16 of Tri-Cor Pharmacy, 204 Madison Ave.

Additional charges were filed in robberies at Hub Drugs, 1320 Nineteenth St., April 6, and Sheridan's Drug Store, 2301 State St., March 5.

Jones was taken to court here Tuesday and entered no plea on the charges. He waived a preliminary hearing and bond was set at $125,000.

At 5:35 p.m. Tuesday, Jones was placed in the custody of Madison County sheriff's deputies and was taken to the Madison County Jail.

Jones was among nine persons arrested during the weekend in connection with a robbery at the County Courthouse investigation into cases related to drug thefts. At 7:35 p.m. Tuesday, Carl Smith, 31, of 22 Briardale Drive, was released after posting $800 cash bond on charges of aiding a fugitive, two charges of having no firearm owner's identification card, theft and unlawful possession of a controlled substance.

GUNS, MONEY TAKEN

Items worth about $130 were stolen from the home of Kenneth Clark, 801 Thorngate Drive, Mitchell, after a kitchen door was pried open. It was reported at 5 p.m. Monday.

Taken were three .38 and several silver dollars.

Salvation Army

Salvation Army in any given community is the dedication of its officers and soldiers alike to helping their fellow man. And the dedication comes from a love for and dedicated service to their God.

"Thus, we in no sense of the word apologize or take a back seat when we make mention that religious services are held in the Salvation Army here. It is our intent and great desire to see a chapel included in the overall plans."

"There are those in the community who have talked against this project and attempted to prevent others from working with it or supporting it in any manner."

"I find this quite appalling when considering that The Salvation Army has aided and assisted this area for some 50 years...with neither notoriety nor seeking of the limelight."

"It was recently said to me, 'I did not know there was a Salvation Army here.'"

"This was by one who has never had any of its services. The services are offered not only to the indigent family or individual who is 'down and out' but also to the 'up and out' for whom our office has been the 'right side of the tracks' who had their children run away from home. They made use of The Salvation Army Missing Persons Bureau."

"Similarly, there have been those making use of The Salvation Army's rehabilitation program for alcoholics and drug abusers as well as Booth Memorial Hospital for unwed mothers."

"It has been and continues to be The Salvation Army's heartfelt desire to be an asset and thus of assistance to the Quad-City area."

"I pledge myself as the Corps officer to uphold the standards of the Army and thus the furtherance of its long history of service to mankind."

"I have found in the hearts of this community some who have been quite apathetic, saying, 'Let someone else do it.' But where does the buck-passing stop?"

"It is rewarding and reassuring to see some come to the foreground and give of their time and energies in behalf of a project such as this."

"It is in no way a financial asset to them...no money is going into their pockets. But they have a concern to see our community a better place in which to live."

"Some have given in a very sacrificial manner. I think of one instance in which a 14-year-old boy has pledged $100."

"An 85-year-old lady is going to give her time and offering for this project for the rest of her life."

"A father of three who could ill afford it has given $1,500."

"Each of these individuals has given so unselfishly and wholeheartedly because they believe that the work of The Salvation Army is needed and, in the sense of the word, is an extension of our Christian faith."

"One recently said to me that The Salvation Army is 'like a breath of fresh air in this troubled and perplexed materialistic world.'"

"I would welcome any ideas and/or suggestions from the general public in regard to the Army's place in our community, and likewise welcome contributions for our project."

GC school

The board then voted unanimously to keep the salary of the board secretary at $500 per year. Worthen nominated Macios to be retained as secretary and he won by acclamation as no other nominations were offered.

Macios nominated Worthen to continue as treasurer and Hall nominated Metcalf to oppose Worthen. The votes were along the same lines as the president's votes with Macios, Moore, Stucke, and Worthen voting for Worthen's re-election, and Hall, Davis and Metcalf voting for Metcalf.

The board voted unanimously to retain Schoolhouse as attorney with the same pay. His pay is determined by the number of hours worked for the district, it was explained.

The first and third Tuesdays of each month were retained as dates for regular school board meetings with the times set at 7:30 p.m. in the school board office, 20th and Adams streets.

A discussion centered on appointments to the district's policy committee. Moore, Macios, and Worthen declined to serve on the committee, and Hall, Davis and Metcalf voted for Metcalf.

The board voted unanimously to appoint a committee chairman. This is a point in which I have a great deal of interest and was to see the board acting rather than reacting."

Moore said the former policy committee was hampered by the lack of a chairman to guide its operation.

Macios nominated Moore as chairman with Worthen and Hall serving in the committee.

Moore then asked that formation of a policy for dealing with non-certificated personnel (secretaries, cooks and custodians) be the first agenda item at the committee's first meeting.

Named to the board's negotiating committee for non-certificated personnel were board members Macios, Metcalf and Davis with administrators on the committee being Tom Jones, Billy Heubner and Harold Hillmer.

Appointed to the committee to contract negotiations with the teachers were board members Worthen and Macios with administrators Frank Kratz and Fred Noeth, Gerald Brown and Hillmer.

Hall was named to the Special Planning Board, replacing Worthen. Macios declined reappointment; Moore was retained on the Southwestern Division Board of the Illinois Association of School Boards; Stucke was kept on the Large School District Council with Moore retained as alternate.

Davis was named to the Area Vocational School Board, and Worthen and Metcalf were retained for the Citizens' Advisory Board.

Head lice problem in nation and state

By JOAN MURARO
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

You say you shampooed on Tuesday, and those pesky white flakes are still on your hair on Wednesday? Maybe, to paraphrase the commercial, what you have isn't ordinary dandruff—it's head lice.

While the mere term is likely to bring on snickers and giggles, the Illinois Department of Public Health stresses that there's nothing funny about head lice. And there's nothing even mildly amusing about the fact that they are approaching epidemic proportions throughout the nation, including Illinois.

Chief victims are children of school age. Nobody seems to know why the itchy little devils are back, though Dr. Russell Martin of the state health department says some surveys done by a national health agency have indicated that the present trend toward long hair is not contributing to the resurgence of head lice, as some have suggested.

The best way to treat head lice, Dr. Martin said, is to try to avoid them. Frequent shampooing, and constant care in not borrowing combs, brushes, caps and the like tend to reduce the chances of infection.

Head lice are not known to be carriers of any serious diseases though they can bring about a secondary infection of the scalp which can be quite serious, and can make the scalp more vulnerable to attack by other bacteria normally present on the skin.

Their chief attribute is being a nuisance—and an unattractive one at that, he said.

While some white items on the head and scalp may be dandruff, if a series of tiny white flakes appear to be attached to a hair shaft by a sticky substance and can only be removed by pulling along the full length of the hair with fingers or nails, they're almost certainly head lice.

Dr. Martin recommends checking with the family physician to be sure first that lice are the problem, and to obtain prescriptions for medications for treating them. Ordinary shampoo and soap won't do it.

Some non-prescription items are available, but the customer should confide in the pharmacist and be sure to get a product designed for such use. Costs can range from about a dollar to $3.50 for prescription drugs.

Hot water should be used and when possible, an electric dryer at the hottest setting.

Nits (the eggs) must then be pulled off with fingernails or removed with a fine tooth comb, and they must be removed or re-infection will occur.

To prevent re-infestation, all bedding, particularly pillow cases, must be laundered in hot, soapy water, and all clothing and bedding used within the previous month should be washed or dry cleaned.

In severe cases, it may be necessary to sprinkle one percent Melathion on seams and in crevices in mattresses and upholstered furniture, leaving it there for 24 hours before vacuuming or brushing off.

When head lice are found in a classroom, all other children should be carefully examined, Dr. Martin said. An infected child should be kept out of school until the problem is controlled.

Above all, health authorities urge, try to teach youngsters never to borrow combs, brushes, hats, other clothing or headgear at school, at play or at home.

HURT IN ACCIDENT

Pearl Forney, 34, of 1819 Primrose Ave., was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 6:10 p.m. Monday for a cut to her forehead and a contusion to her left knee suffered in an auto accident. X-rays were taken and she was released.

Building bids rejected

For the second time, the Chouteau Town Board has rejected all bids submitted for construction of a township garage.

Bids opened by the board last week were rejected Monday night after auditors discovered a bid for an all-steel building was within the acceptable price range for the wooden frame building called for in the township's specifications.

The auditors indicated they felt the steel building would be superior, but were unable to accept the bid because it did not meet the specifications released for bidding.

The auditors voted to call again for bids, this time for either a steel or wooden frame building.

The low bid to specifications was from Wilson Construction Co., Godfrey, for $30,995. Other bids were from Ed Moore Construction Co., Granite City, $33,900, and Douglas Construction Co., $64,450.

The bid for the steel building was from Cook General Contractors for $33,900. The first set of bids was rejected when the low bidder was found not to be in compliance with the Bacon-Davis Act requiring union labor.

The board approved dates and times for May and June meetings. Regular meetings will be Saturday, May 4, at 9 a.m., Monday, May 20 at 7 p.m., and Monday, June 3 and 17, both at 7 p.m.

Special sports Olympics meet

Twenty-five handicapped athletes from the Quad-City area will participate Friday, May 10, in Special Sports Olympics to be held at McAndrew Stadium, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Medal winners at the meet will compete in a state meet July 11 in Chicago.

The annual meet is open to athletes from institutions, shelter care workshops, special education classes and communities in 37 Southern Illinois counties.

Each person will compete at his or her own age and ability level in track and field, which includes 50-yard and 220-yard dashes, softball throw, high jump, broad jump, relays, and pentathlon.

Also on the program are team sports, such as basketball and volleyball, plus swimming and gymnastics events.

A spokesman for the Special Services Advisory Council, which is helping to organize the Olympics, told the Press-Record, "It is more than just an opportunity to compete or to provide social and psychological development. It is to provide the handicapped with opportunities which they have never had before."

Last year, a Granite City girl won several medals in pentathlon competition—50-yard dash, 300-yard run, long jump, high jump and softball throw—and placed well in state competition. She also participated in the nationals in California.

Medallists in last year's competition also included four other Granite Cityans.

Group going to Indy time trials

Bill Guth, president of the St. Louis Area Auto Racing Fan Club, has announced that tickets for the club's planned bus trip on Saturday, May 11, for the first day of time trials for the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race are still available by contacting him at 831-4011.

"This year's Memorial Day classic should be one of the best ever," said Guth. "And racing fans have always agreed that the time trials are as exciting as the race itself."

He notes that three buses have been filled by reservations and that two more are available for the trip. The group will depart from the old terminal building at Lambert Field at 1 a.m.

Each ticket costs $23 per person and is good for round-trip transportation, breakfast at the Speedway Motel, admission to the event, and a buffet supper on the return trip.

"If enough persons are interested," added Guth, "some of the buses will remain in Indiana for a U.S. Auto Club sprint car race to be held at Claymont, Ind., that evening."

Devils shut out

The Venice Red Devils, playing in only their second baseball game this season, were shut out 16-0 during the weekend at Waterloo.

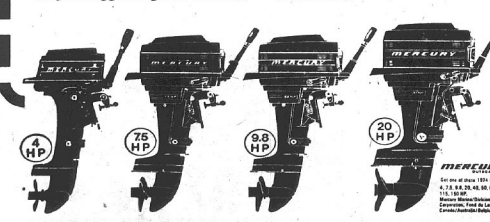

Venice had two hits and six errors. Waterloo garnered 14 hits and error three times.

A 10-day layoff begins for the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville track team after a victory over Millikin University and Greenville College here Tuesday afternoon.

SIUE had 94.5, Millikin 45 and Greenville 9.5.

Coach Jack Whitted's Cougars, who own a 3-1 record, will be preparing for the University of Wisconsin relays May 10.

Errors hamper Trojans

The baseball Trojans of MHS fell to 5-7 for the season after dropping a 10-0 game at East St. Louis Lincoln yesterday.

Winning pitcher Dennis Gray held Madison to two hits in five innings. Steve McManney singled in the fourth and Emmett Timmons singled in the fifth. The game then was called on the 10-run lead rule.

Lincoln got seven hits and erred once. Madison made five errors.

Coach Ron Davis put two pitchers on the mound—Tim Fisk for three innings and Jerry Verba for two.

Today's scheduled Madison versus Venice baseball game has been postponed because of the teachers' strike at Venice.

Big North rally

The baseball Steelers of GCHS North traveled to Trenton Tuesday to meet Weslin High School and turned a 3-1 seven-inning deficit into an 11-3 victory.

"We were in a do-or-die situation," comments Steele Coach Bob Stegemeyer.

"Larry Petr and Mark Davis walked," Ed Schmitt grounded out to score Petr and Gene Logas walked. John Harding squeezed in on Paul Stadyahour home (pinch-running for Davis) and all of a sudden there was a new ball game (3-3) with two out.

Jeff Reiter grounded to the shortstop and the throw went over the first baseman's head, enabling Logas to score from second base.

"Wrapping up their third consecutive win, including a double triumph over Altoth during the weekend, the Steelers added seven more runs on hits by Bill Dickerson, Davis and Logas and three Trenton errors.

Dickerson pitched the entire game, allowing eight hits, walking two and striking out five.

North totaled ten hits and one error. John Scott and Harvey Breckner each garnered two hits.

Price favors national historic trail on Lewis and Clark route

In a statement submitted to the Department of the Interior, Congressman Melvin Price (Dem., 23rd Ill.) has recommended that the 3,643-mile Lewis and Clark Trail be designated as a National Historic Trail.

The trail, which was followed by Lewis and Clark during their exploration of the Louisiana Purchase, extends from Wood River, Ill., to the Pacific Ocean in Oregon.

Rep. Price has recommended a trail plan which would provide outdoor recreation opportunities for visiting historic sites, hiking, bicycling, horseback riding, sightseeing, driving for pleasure, canoeing and boating activities.

In the plan, federal, state and private lands would be developed in a coordinated effort to achieve a total and continuous trail route from the vicinity of Wood River to the area of Astoria, Oregon.

The combined land and water route would be composed of interconnected roads, highways, rivers, trails, lakes and reservoirs.

In his statement, the local congressman said, "No trail in this nation is better known than that followed by Lewis and Clark, and I can think of no trail more fitting for designation as a National Historic Trail."

Price noted that Wood River, the starting point of the trail, is located in his Congressional district.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Page 8 Thurs., Apr. 25, 1974

"I am certain," he said, "that the people of Wood River and the surrounding area would enthusiastically welcome establishment of the National Historic Trail and provide an excellent point of embarkation for travelers following in the steps of Lewis and Clark."

The Bureau of Outdoor Recreation has scheduled a public information meeting on its Lewis and Clark Trail feasibility study at 7:30 p.m. May 2 at the North Theatre, Jefferson National Expansion Memorial, St. Louis.

Rep. Price is encouraging residents of his district to respond to a Department of Transportation invitation for public comment on daylight saving time.

The department wants to assess public opinion on such questions as (1) whether daylight saving time is advisable on a year-round basis, (2) whether it helps conserve energy, and (3) whether daylight saving time should be continued when the current legislation expires in October 1975.

The information collected will be incorporated in a department report to Congress.

Interested individuals should write to the U.S. Department of Transportation, Box 1813, Washington, D. C. 20013.

Cong. Price has announced that the U.S. Department of Agriculture will conduct a National Rural Development Leaders School in Champaign, Ill., from June 2 to 6.

The program is designed to upgrade the quality of leadership in rural America by training nonprofessional leaders in the principles and process of rural development.

The Illinois school, to be held at the Illinois Union, will draw participants from 11 other Midwestern states.

A total of 110 participants will be selected from among elected and appointed state and local officials with positions of responsibility relating to rural development, voluntary leaders in state and local public service organizations concerned with community or area development, and business, industrial and civic leaders interested in rural development.

Major topics of the courses include the rural setting, the rural development process, rural development leadership, financing rural development, working with organizations, and rural development programming.

Price said applications are available from his force in Washington or the Rural Development Service of the Department of Agriculture. The application deadline is May 8. Applicants selected will be notified by May 15.

The checks represent accumulated per diem pay the village officials have received and kept for a park. Two other village officials, Paul Bennett and Donald C. Rea, pledged with Moss and Gaudette in the last village election that they would save their per diem checks for a park fund. Bennett and Rea are expected to present their checks at a later date.

Rep. Price has advised that the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency will sponsor a Water Plant Operator Seminar at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn on May 2. The seminar program will consist of lectures by EPA experts in the field of water quality, films and discussion. Lecture topics will include waterborne diseases, backflow prevention, industrial poisons and pesticides, and methods for dealing with contamination of public water supplies.

Price encouraged all interested persons to register by April 29 with Ed Kane, Environmental Protection Agency, 117 West Main St., Collinsville, Ill. 62234.

Move to abolish fire district

Application was made to the secretary of state yesterday to abolish the Bend Road Fire Protection District, a not-for-profit state corporation.

This week, some residents of the district objected to the abolishment of the district and the Bend Road Fire Department which it governed.

The district was ordered abolished at a meeting of some of the trustees Wednesday, April 10, attended by eight persons, including Fire Chief Joe Robinson, his wife, Irene Robinson who is secretary-treasurer of the district; Lester Vierling, president of the district; Ervin Mueller, a former fireman, and others, the Press-Record has learned.

At least two trustees of the fire protection district were not informed the meeting was to take place and did not attend, it was disclosed.

At the meeting, the district's pumper truck, a tank truck, a fire engine and a mobile pump were sold to Mueller, 720 Layton Road, a farmer. Mueller would not disclose the price he paid for the equipment, but said he has sold some of equipment and retained the pumper, portable tank and portable pump.

Mrs. Robinson also declined to disclose the amount for which the equipment was sold, telling the Press-Record, "It's none of your business."

Asked what the residents of the area now plan to do for fire protection, Mueller replied, "I have fire protection (with the equipment he purchased). I do not know what everyone else is going to do."

Mrs. Robinson commented, "This area was without fire protection before we formed the department and they are without it again now. What's the difference? The state is buying up all this land for a park anyway." She added she was not sure if all of the district is to become part of the Horseshoe Lake State Park.

District President Vierling said this week, his understanding is that the district plans to distribute about $1,200 in surplus funds, plus the money raised through the sale of the fire equipment, among the firemen who served the district.

"That is public money," one trustee objected. "Members pay $10 per year dues to stay in the protection district and many members are paid up. Other funds were raised through fish fries and other activities in which we participated. It's been a community effort," he added. Mrs. Robinson indicated she hopes to distribute the money to the firemen "who worked very hard for it," but said she will wait to see what law requires. "If we have to give the money to a non-profit organization, then we will," she pledged.

One trustee objected to the "secrecy" with which the district was abolished. "Now we have no fire protection and most neighbors are unaware of it," he said.

The question of fire protection for the area was brought to the Nameoki Town Board at its meeting Monday night. William Nichols, a fire trustee and a representative of Horseshoe Lake landowners, told the board he has consulted with Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison and has been told it would cost the Madison Fire Department about $800 per trip to provide protection to that area.

Madison has been threatening to withdraw fire protection from the East Madison area of Nameoki Township for several years because the city is losing money there and the city is not properly protected while the fire trucks are in East Madison, according to officials.

Nichols asked the Nameoki Town Board to consider the fire protection needs of the Bend Road citizens while attempting to resolve the same problem in the East Madison area.

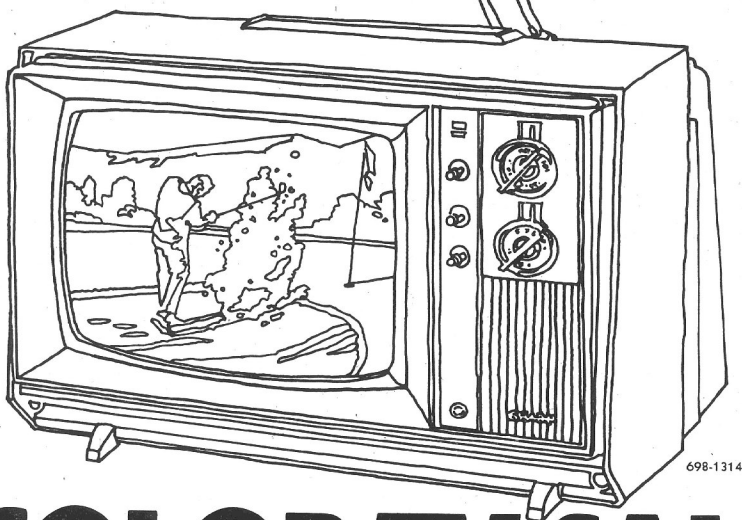

PRAYER GROUP TOPIC OF METHODIST WOMEN

Plans to participate in the Upper Room Prayer Group on April 30 were completed by the United Methodist Women of Venice Methodist Church at a meeting this month.

A program for Easter was led by Mrs. Magdalena Smith followed by a treasurer's report by Mavis DeWitt. Mrs. Smith closed the meeting with prayer.

A dessert luncheon was served by Jane Harris to Dolores Sitton, Maud Lewis, Mattie Deacon, Marion Cunningham, Allene Marcus, Jane Harris, Sybil Robb and the above named.

National Steel studying where to build expanded steelmaking facilities

National Steel Corp. earned $23,000,715, or $1.24 per share, in the first quarter, Chairman George A. Stinson reported Wednesday in Pittsburgh. In the comparable 1973 quarter, net earnings totaled $19,058,690, or $1.05 per share.

The firm owns Granite City Steel.

At the company's annual meeting, Stinson told stockholders:

"We had a record first quarter in every category except net earnings, which we missed because of a heavy loss sustained by Iron Ore Co. of Canada, of which we are a major stockholder. Our share of that first quarter loss, based on the equity method of accounting, was 20 cents per share, after taxes."

Profitability improved over the margins of the first 1973 quarter, Stinson said. He added:

"The American steel market continued at the very high levels it has shown since the end of 1972, and it gives every promise of holding at that level through the second quarter."

"Costs continue to soar, however, particularly those of scrap, zinc and tin. Rather substantially, this negated the very real benefits of sustained, high-volume production."

"The 20-cent increase in the direct hourly wage rate, plus associated costs, which takes effect next week under the new agreement with the United Steelworkers of America will intensify this pressure."

Primary steel production totaled 2,775,200 tons, an increase of 6.9 per cent.

Shipments, at 2,394,800 tons, set an all-time quarterly record, a 1.6 per cent increase over the comparable 1973 quarter.

"Despite all of the problems imposed on us by inflation," Stinson told stockholders, "There is real progress to report. Perhaps most important is the successful completion of our industry's labor contract negotiation under the unprecedented 'experimental' negotiating agreement."

"One year ago it was a promising hope of relief for our customers, our owners and our employees. Today it is a fact."

"Further important progress is termination of the Economic Stabilization Act next week," Stinson added.

"Useful as it was three years ago, it had become neither stabilizing nor economic during the last year. I know of no industry whose ability to plan and build its future was more seriously impaired by controls than our own."

"At National Steel," Chairman Stinson asserted, "we have said frequently that we see an expanding domestic steel market through 1980 which we intend to share fully. We understand what we must do to produce that market, and we are deep into the planning and execution of it."

"Specifically, today and for some months past, we are constructing a capacity expansion program of more than one million tons per year."

"At a cost of $300 million — which we expect to raise internally — this effort, 'round-out' the full potential of our existing steelmaking and finishing plants," Stinson said.

"Additionally, we have committed a very large raw materials expansion."

"It consists of a new iron ore pellet plant in Minnesota and a new 1,000-foot Great Lakes ore-carrier vessel which will transport the bulk of our new pellet production. They will support the 'round-out' program and our Phase II expansion."

"The latter aims at raising our primary steel capacity by two million tons per year by 1980 — all of it new capacity."

"We are deeply engaged today in studying where we should build what kind of capacity — and how it is to be financed."

"With our labor relations stabilized and the distortions of price control removed, we feel more confident than we have until now to meet this real expansion challenge."

Investment credit for the first 1974 quarter totaled $1,000,000, or five cents per share, compared with $1,875,000, or 10 cents per share, during the comparable 1973 quarter.

Grants to improve state correctional centers

Six grants totaling nearly $600,000 have been awarded to the Illinois Department of Corrections by the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission (ILEC) for a variety of projects to "humanize conditions" at the state's adult correctional centers.

The joint announcement was made by Corrections Director Allyn R. Siefel and Dr. David Fogel, executive director of the ILEC.

The first grant, amounting to $90,584 (the corrections department will contribute an additional $10,063), making a total of $100,647, involves the upgrading of food services and equipment at seven of the agency's correctional centers—Joliet, Stateville, Menard, Vandalia, Pontiac, Vienna and the Psychiatric Division at Menard.

The grant funds will provide for modern kitchen equipment, including hot and cold carts and other portable food-carrying devices.

In addition, Siefel said, the grant will enable the department to establish a "test kitchen" at the Vienna Correctional Center as an ongoing staff training resource. Within eight months after the kitchen has been in operation, he said, all incumbent food services supervisors will have received training there.

The food services supervisors will in turn train resident kitchen workers at the various institutions.

The second grant, amounting to $127,800, will enable the department to pipe hot water into every cell at its major correctional centers, including Pontiac, Menard, Sheridan, Joliet and the Psychiatric Division at Menard. The funds will cover the cost of water heaters and pipes, as well as installation costs. Siefel said the agency currently is in the process of installing hot water in all the cells at the Stateville Correctional Center—a project which is being paid for by department funds.

The department will contribute $14,200 to the grant, bringing the total cost of the project to $142,000.

The third grant, amounting to $75,000 from the ILEC and $10,000 from the Department of Corrections, will provide for the remodeling of the large dining hall at the Joliet Correctional Center into a multipurpose building, half of which will be used as an all-weather recreational building and the other half as a food service area.

Siefel said a solid partition will be erected to divide the building lengthwise and recreational flooring will be installed in that portion of the structure to permit indoor sports activities.

In addition, he said, the grant funds will enable the department to purchase much-needed recreational equipment for all the adult correctional centers, as well as two theater-type 16 mm. movie projectors for the Stateville Correctional Center.

Siefel said that a previous ILEC grant of $25,000 is being used to convert the large dining hall at Stateville into an all-weather gymnasium. The fourth grant, amounting to $247,316 in ILEC funds, will permit the agency to install new electrical wiring and outlets in every cell at all the Adult Division's maximum-security institutions. Such installations will permit the prisoners to read at night.

The ILEC grant for this project will be augmented by $27,490 from the department, bringing the grand total to $274,796.

Siefel said the fifth ILEC grant, amounting to $50,000 and supplemented by $5,556 from department monies, will be used in fiscal 1975 to partially fund the operation of the Fox Valley Work Release Center in Aurora—one of seven in the Adult Division.

Siefel said the Aurora center is unique, in that it is operated as a cooperative effort by the Department of Corrections and the 16th Judicial Circuit Court of Kane County. Under this cooperative arrangement, the court has authority to sentence certain offenders from the local community to the work release center, rather than sending them to one of the state's correctional institutions.

The sixth grant, amounting to $100,000 and to be used for agency planning, Siefel said the department has not had a comprehensive planning function since the agency became operational in January 1970. This has resulted in a fragmented pattern of progress which is unclear both internally and externally, he said.

"Planning is a complex task and all the more so in a large, public agency which provides multi-faceted services on a statewide basis," Siefel said.

He said the planning unit will assist him and his staff to develop objectives from which a balanced system of services might be designed and operated to meet the differential needs of offenders in Illinois.

He emphasized that the project will institutionalize planning process as a continuing "strategy of search," recognizing that there are no permanent solutions to meet continuously changing circumstances, time and of-

Madison to join probe of sewer rate increase

The city of Madison will join other communities in a probe of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District in a move to determine an increase in sewer treatment fees charged by the levee district is justified, Mayor Mike Sasyk told the Madison meeting Tuesday night.

Sasyk told the aldermen that unless levee district officials can show by their records that an increase of 40 cents per month in fees charged Madison and Vespa residents, as well as those of other communities served by the district's Lansdowne primary treatment plant, is justified, the court will be asked to enjoin the district from applying the new rate.

After the council session, Mayor Sasyk told the Press-Record that a meeting of records and city officials of communities in the levee district has been arranged for today at 7 p.m. in the Madison Fire Hall.

Sasyk said Jack Scoville, president of the levee district, has been requested to produce records of treatment plant operations over the past several years for study and discussion by the city officials.

"We have tried without success to review records of the sewer and treatment operations by the levee district over the past three years and never have had any cooperation," Sasyk charged. "There are a lot of things we need to learn before we can approve an increase in the sewage treatment rates," he said.

Levee trustees approved this month an ordinance increasing the original rate schedule under which the average householder paid $1.15 per month, or $3.45 on each quarterly billing, as a sewer rental and sewage treatment fee.

The amendment increases the monthly rate to $1.56, $4.65 per quarter. Other rates of the schedule are increased upward proportionately with bills based on gallons of water used by the sewer user.

Sasyk told city council members that the injunction proceedings will be filed if levee district records do not show the rate is justified or "if they (the trustees) do not cooperate."

Fourth Ward Alderman Mike Sikora said he had received complaints about an old shed, a pile of rubbish and junk cars in the 1000 block of Iowa Street, and urged that the city "do something about it right away."

Mayor Sasyk instructed City Health Officer Gene Robertson and Building Inspector John Dutko to make an inspection of the area and take action to have the area cleaned up.

Mayor Sasyk announced that he and the council's street committee met with Sheppard, Morgan and Schwab, civil engineers, and that the paving of Collinsville Avenue from McCambridge Avenue to Madison Avenue was scheduled to begin next year.

The work will include curbs, gutters, sidewalks and drainage structures. A grant has been approved which will pay 70 per cent of the cost from the new Federal Aid Urban System officials reported.

Building Inspector Dutko reported he had received numerous calls about the new zoning ordinance passed at the last council meeting and "that everyone seems pleased at what the city council is doing."

"I have not received one negative call from anyone about the zoning and housing codes; and many people are beginning to really make an effort to clean up their homes and property all over the city," Dutko said.

A request by the Madison County Mental Health Association to set up a road-block at Sixth street and Madison Avenue on May 18, and one by United Cerebral Palsy to conduct a door-to-door solicitation were referred to the ## Student workers get raise

An across-the-board wage increase of 30 cents per hour went into effect this week for student workers at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, according to Dr. John S. Rendleman, president.

President Rendleman said the wage increase is being granted to comply with the minimum wage law, but all student workers, including those above the minimum, will receive the 30-cent-per-hour increase.

Student checks of May 17 will include the increase, retroactive to April 21.

The new federal law, which becomes effective May 1, calls for a minimum wage of $1.90 per hour. The minimum will be increased to $2.20 per hour on Jan. 1, 1976. Still another increase, to $2.30 per hour, is scheduled Jan. 1, 1977.

Until this week, the hourly rates for undergraduates ranged from $1.60 to $2.40 per hour, with an average of $1.78 per hour, according to Student Work and Financial Assistance Office. Graduate student workers received $1.80 to $3.15 per hour before the increase.

The last student payroll at SIUE listed 1,399 workers.

Shirley Chisholm to address Business Women's convention

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

U.S. Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm, the first black woman to be elected to Congress in the United States, will headline the list of distinguished speakers at the 53rd annual convention of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs (IFBPWC) which convenes today at the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel, St. Louis.

More than 1,000 career women will attend the four-day conference, including 18 members of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club who will serve as delegates and alternates. Mrs. Lil Marzull, president, said today.

As the first place winner of District 14 contests in speak-off, scrapbook and "Club of the Year" competition, the Granite City club will vie with other Illinois district winners for top state honors at the convention.

Keynote address on Friday—"The Search for Values in an Affluent Society"—will be given by Sydney J. Harris, reporter and feature writer for the Chicago Daily News since 1941. Harris is the author of seven books, including two written in 1972: "For the Time Being" and "The Authentic Person-Dealing with Dilemma." His daily column "Strictly Personal" is now distributed to some 150 newspapers throughout the United States, Canada and Latin America.

Delegates also will hear Mrs. Maxine R. Hays of Junction City, Ore., first vice-president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., who will act as national representative. She is a past president of the Oregon Federation and has served as national treasurer and national finance committee chairman.

Mrs. Hays is a member of the Governor's Committee on the Status of Women, the National Association of Insurance Women, the National Association of Women Highway Safety Leaders, Soroptimist Club and Lane County Central Republican Committee. She serves as treasurer of the Junction City Chamber of Commerce and is listed in many national biographical books.

U.S. Congresswoman Chisholm from New York's 12th Congressional District will be the principal speaker at Saturday evening's banquet.

In May 1973 Mrs. Chisholm was selected to be the first recipient of Clair's Woman of the Year Award for outstanding achievement in public affairs, and for the past three years she has remained on the Gallup Poll's list of the ten most admired women in the world.

Congressional committees on which she has served include the House Agriculture Subcommittee on Forestry and Rural Villages; Veterans Affairs; House Education and Labor; Select Education; General Education; and Agricultural Labor Subcommittee. She also is a member of the Congressional Black Caucus.

Other highlights of the convention are the presentation of awards on Friday evening, honoring outstanding work in federation activities.

Saturday morning the Celia M. Howard Fellowship Awards will be given to young women seeking to prepare themselves for careers in state or federal government or in foreign service, and several Young Career Women will be honored and a winner selected to represent Illinois at the national convention.

Speaker at the Saturday luncheon will be Colofel Salees Seddon, the first woman to serve as a member of the St. Louis Board of Police Commissioners. She is current board treasurer and was nominated as a Woman of the Year by the Ladies Home Journal.

At a Sunday brunch for all BPW members, new federation officers and committee chairmen will be introduced. The Illinois Federation is affiliated with the original and largest organization for business and professional women, founded in 1919.

In 1956, the BPW established the Business and Professional Women's Foundation, the only research and educational organization devoted exclusively to working women.

The foundation's resources and facilities are available without charge to any individual or organization working in areas of concern to employed women.

More than 170,000 BPW members are enrolled in over 3,800 clubs which are located in every Congressional District, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

BPW members are encouraged to participate in local, state, national and world affairs and to work toward legislation that will insure equal legal rights for women and men, including passage of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA).

Current president of the Illinois Federation is Mrs. Violet Davis of Casey, Ill.

Other state officers are: Miss Kay Howell, Skokie, president; Mrs. Catherine Burton, Collinsville, first vice-president; Miss Yvonne M. Hirsch, Tinley Park, second vice-president; Miss M. Fidella

MARRIED. Army Private First Class and Mrs. Gregory D. Vaughn, who were married at the Nameoki United Methodist Church. The bride is the former Miss Cheryl J. Willis, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo C. Willis, 3143 Wayne Ave. (Gravemann Photography)

Vaughn-Willis wedding at Nameoki Methodist

Miss Cheryl J. Willis became the bride of Army Private First Class Gregory D. Vaughn in a double ring ceremony April 6 at 7 o'clock in the evening at Nameoki United Methodist Church.

The Rev. William Fester heard the couple exchange vows before an altar decorated with bouquets of pink and lilac carnations and gladioli. Mrs. Alice Worthen sang "Sunrise, Sunset," "Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the organ by David Long.

Following the arrival of the wedding party, tapers in aisle standards were lighted by Elizabeth and Shawn Vaughn, sister and brother of the groom. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Leo C. Willis, 3143 Wayne Ave. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Vaughn, 2601 Propps Ave.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle by her father, the bride wore a long white gown, fashioned of peau de soie. The tucked and pleated bodice was accented with a high collar and long full sleeves gathered at the wrists into wide cuffs.

A white lace trim encircled the hem of her slightly full skirt that swept gently into a chapel length train.

She chose a lace headband to secure the mantilla veil of bridal illusion, edged with matching lace trim, and she held a pink Georgian bouquet of elegant lilacs and cornflowers.

Matron of honor Mrs. Nancy Willis, a sister-in-law of the bride, and bridesmaids Mrs. Barbara Shelton and Misses Mary Deatherage, Gayle Felt, Kathy Wilson and Donice Friend were dressed alike in lilac gowns.

Pink and white floral motifs were applied on the molded bodices of the attendants' dresses made with high necklines and long bishop sleeves.

The A-line style skirts terminated with a gathered flounce. Each attendant wore a lilac ribbon in her hair to hold in place a lilac nose tip veil. Their bouquets were similar to the bridal flowers.

Mortgage burning Sunday

Celebration Sunday will be held at the First Baptist Church, Fifth Street and Alton Avenue, Madison, on Sunday this week to observe two major events.

The first is designated as "Homecoming Sunday" at which members will have an opportunity to meet and visit with many former members and friends. The second event will be the burning of the $50,000 mortgage note.

The day's events will begin with the study of "God's Word" in the Sunday School at 9:30 a.m. Each teacher has been asked to urge members of his class to be present.

At 10:30 a.m. the membership and friends will meet in the sanctuary for the Worship Service. During the service, members will hear greetings from Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk.

There will be a time of recognition for all former members and friends who have returned to celebrate this day.

During the service the trustees of the church Bill James, Wilburn Gulledge, Earl Warren and Harold Lassen, will burn the mortgage note.

The Rev. Keith Stanford, superintendent of missions for the Madison County Baptist Association, will give the message. Special music during the service will be presented by the choir, members and former members of the church.

Following the morning worship service the congregation will go to the Madison Recreation Center, Seventh and Lee streets, for a basket dinner.

The homecoming committee, Mrs. Geraldine Stein, Mrs. Hilda Jackson and Mrs. Pauline Corey, has sent letters of invitation to all former members. The pastor, the Rev. Paul Davis said that, "In the event that any member in the Quad-City area was overlooked, they certainly are encouraged to come and fellowship with the church on this great day."

DAR magazine gifts to libraries

The Drusilla Andrews Chapter of the DAR met during the weekend in the home of Mrs. Eva Meier, with Mrs. D. Reva Turner, regent, presiding.

The President General's message was read by Mrs. Mildred Whyers and a National Defense topic was discussed by Mrs. Jane Ann Vanseler.

Members voted to send a year's subscription to the DAR magazine to the Granite City Public Library and to the school libraries of the two Granite City high schools.

Mrs. Turner reported the Kate Duncan Smith DAR School located in Grant, Ala., is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year and that the local chapter will be observing its 50th anniversary this fall.

She challenged the local members to do "something special" in honor of the Alabama school. A newsletter from the school contained letters of congratulations from Alabama Governor George C. Wallace, the two Alabama national senators and several members of the House of Representatives.

A combined meeting with DAR chapters from Granite City, Alton, Edwardsville and Collinsville will be held in May at the Stratford Motor Hotel in Alton, it was announced.

Mrs. Cleland E. Leaman of Wilmette, state regent, will be the featured guest and will install new officers for each chapter. Gifts will be presented to the state officer to be included in her special project during her term of office.

Members present in addition to the above named were Mrs. Margaret Belt, Mrs. Emma Schoen, Mrs. Barbara Williams and Mrs. Janet Wilson.

Miss Edmonds is shower honoree

Miss Martha Edmonds, a May bride-elect, was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower given last week in her home, 7057 C Creekside Trail, St. Louis.

Hostesses for the party were Mrs. Janet Wendle, Mrs. Lucia Suckcamp, Mrs. Carol Relke, who will serve as her bridesmaids.

They used the wedding colors of yellow and green in the table appointments. Luncheon was served to 17 couples, all friends of Miss Edmonds and her fiancé, Dr. Jeffrey Weiss.

The guest of honor is a daughter of Mrs. Karmyn Edmonds, 2033 Amos Avenue, St. Louis. The betrothed couple will be married on May 11 at St. John United Church of Christ.

LUNCHEON HONORS LOCAL RESIDENTS

A buffet luncheon was served this week at the Knights of Columbus Hall to honor Walter Stawar, 2296 Gary Ave., on his 59th birthday and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Stawar, 4362 Lake Drive, in observance of their 26th wedding anniversary.

More than 65 friends and relatives attended the afternoon party.

River Festival offers outstanding entertainment events this summer

The 1974 Mississippi River Festival is being celebrated in some quarters as "something old, something new, financed by something borrowed." While financial problems do exist, the July 5-Aug. 21 concert series on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has a lot to offer and again will merit the hearty public interest that has annually been attracted.

Exciting popular, folk, rock and classical music is scheduled, along with film classics. World-renowned entertainers will appear as well as some equally gifted but not yet as widely recognized for their musical talent.

The highly-regarded St. Louis Symphony Orchestra will participate in weekend concerts, performing the music on six Saturday evenings and combining favorite symphonic works with stage and film tunes on six Sunday nights at the tent-and-hillside amphitheater. The concert version of Verdi's opera, "Aida," will be among the highlights.

Wielding the baton in addition to conductor Walter Susskind and Associate Conductor Leonard Slatkin will be such guests as Meredith Willson, Richard Hayman, Henry Lewis, John Green and Andre Kostelanetz.

Popular soloists and groups slated for Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday concerts will be announced next month. The list traditionally has included top artists from the United States and England and also will spotlight jazz, country and western, rock and Bluegrass themes.

Monday evening motion pictures will include Woodstock, Seventh Seal, Dr. Strangelove, Fail Safe, Seven Days in May, Casablanca, Maltese Falcon, African Queen, Visions of Eight, Yellow Submarine, The Magician, Journey Through the Past, Zagreb Festival and experimental films.

Parking on all lots will be free to all concert-goers, with shuttle bus service again offered.

A special price of $9 has been set for student multiple tickets enabling them to attend the six Saturday events and enjoy reserved seating in the 1,877-capacity Festival tent. As MRF fans know, all 30,000-capacity lawn areas also afford an unobstructed view of the stage.

Established in October 1968, the Mississippi River Festival has done much to entertain and uplift hundreds of thousands of persons with its diversified, high-caliber programs.

A positive approach by the public this year can lead not only to a successful sixth season but also to a break-even point financially if the two state art councils give the backing that is justified by population and attendance factors.

Box offices, including SIUE and Quad-City locations, will open on June 1. All ticket mail orders are to be sent to the University Center Ticket Office, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, Ill. 62025, with checks payable to the Mississippi River Festival.

Venice school strike points up value of talks between the two sides

As this was being written, little was happening to end the stoppage of classes in the Venice school district. Picketing by teachers began Monday and halted all school activities and instruction.

The stalemate during the early part of this week spotlighted the importance of resuming and intensifying efforts to reach an agreement for the 1973-74 term.

Just as faculty members lack the right under Illinois law to withhold their services, school district officials have a duty to do all they reasonably can to restore normal school operations as soon as possible.

There eventually will be a settlement, and the quicker the better. If frequent talks can expedite a solution, they should be held.

$35,080 earned in month on investments by the City of Granite City

Taxpayers are better off to the tune of $35,080, thanks to interest income in that amount reported for April on Granite City municipal funds invested and reinvested by Treasurer Paul E. Rutledge.

The record month was aided by maturing investments and also was bolstered by the first receipts from a grant for construction of Granite City's secondary sewage treatment plant.

George Pulianas an able chairman for the next United Way drive here

One of the most able and active members of the most recent United Way campaign team, George Pulianas, has accepted the chairmanship of the next annual drive.

Contributions and pledges derived from the October 1974 effort will help finance the 1975 operations of the many local community service agencies affiliated with the Tri-Cities Area United Way.

of Granite City Steel, Mr. Pulianas has shown much interest in and devotion to the well-being of the Quad-City area, as has Paul H. Kelly, United Way president and A.O. Smith Corp. plant manager.

Additional campaign appointments will be announced during the coming months. All leaders and solicitors will deserve and undoubtedly will receive the same strong, constructive public response as that of six months ago.

Budgeting urged for 'even' years

By MAURICE W. SCOTT
Executive Vice President
Taxpayers Federation of Illinois

Important action at the General Assembly last week was the passage in the Senate of SJR 60 by a vote of 44 to 9.

This resolution, sponsored by Senators Rock, Sears, Conolly, Donawald, Parlee, Knuppel and Soper, calls for a change in the Illinois Constitution that would limit sessions of the Assembly in even numbered years to three-month duration and consideration only of budgetary measures.

The measure goes to the Illinois House, and must be approved by that body by May 5 if it is to be on the ballot for the November election for approval or disapproval of the voters.

The old 1870 State Constitution provided for biennial sessions of the General Assembly, but in recent years the Assembly had been practically meeting year after year, with the provisions of an attorney general's opinion.

The delegates who drafted the 1970 Illinois Constitution provided for special sessions, principally to better plan and analyze the state's budget, which is now in the billions of dollars.

Admitting that there are arguments on both sides of the proposal, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois favors SJR 60 because of the following reasons:

1. Legislators in the even numbered years should be free to consider nothing else but the state's budget when that document is today close to $10 billion. This task is gigantic when you consider that such deliberations include both revenue and expenditure matters.

2. A shorter session in the even numbered years (possibly 90 days) would give the legislators more time back in their districts, touching elbows with the people and putting their desires relative to legislation.

One fault with Congress today is that the members are in Washington, D. C., so continuously that they often lose contact with their constituency.

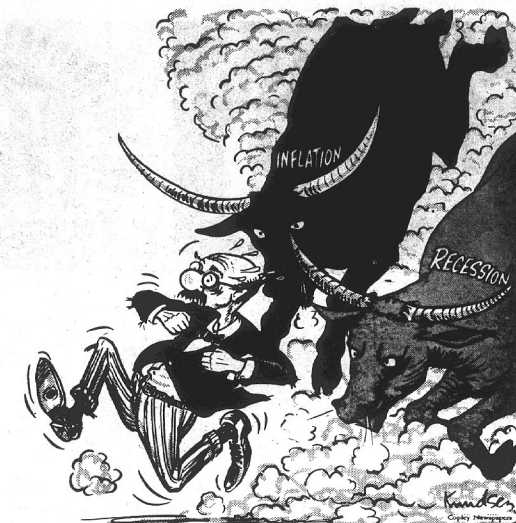

3. Wide-open sessions for six-month duration each year will mean that the old "cat and dog" bills will be back twice as often, and when they are on the race track more, some of them will pass.

4. Continuous unlimited sessions each year place the public, lawyers and jurists in a position of having difficulty in determining what the law is from day to day.

West Publishing Co., the company that publishes the Illinois Revised Statutes, just got the Statutes out to the public in February—and this is just when the 1973 sessions didn't adjourn until Dec. 1, 1973.

But already we have a supplement.

In 1945, the Revised Statutes consisted of one volume. Today, they consist of four volumes and

'You've got a friend'—duet by Walker, Blair

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

There's a "New deal" at the Statehouse.

That was the speculation in Capitol corridors last week as legislators returned to Springfield to begin the serious work of the 1974 spring session. Overshadowing discussion of what may happen to Democratic Gov. Daniel Walker's proposed $7.9 billion budget was theorizing as to the meaning of the new relationship between the governor and Republican House Speaker W. Robert Blair.

Lawmakers, like other political figures throughout the state, were surprised to see pictures and stories in newspapers and on television screens of the governor and the speaker jointly announcing support of a proposed state energy commission.

In the past when Walker and Blair have been linked in the news, they have usually been exchanging charges.

Their differences over tax relief programs fueled a feud all through the fall session. Neither program was ever adopted by the legislature, and any form of tax relief is regarded as a dim prospect for the current session. Why have Walker and Blair gotten together?

The prevailing view is that it is strictly political. Each is in need of a political friend; none being readily available in one's own party, then one from the other party will do.

Walker day by day moves deeper into an all-out power struggle with Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley for control of the Illinois Democratic party. The governor's latest thrust to Daley came when he proposed to members of the Democratic State Central Committee that the chairman of the House of Representatives serve for only two years instead of the customary four. This was immediately interpreted as an effort to dump the current chairman and Daley protégé, John P. Touby of Chicago, before the 1976 campaign.

Blair, for his part, is increasingly at odds with Illinois' top Republican, Atty. Gen. William J. Scott, rated at the Statehouse as far ahead of Blair in competition for the 1976 GOP nomination for governor.

In order to strengthen their respective positions in the party structures, Walker and Blair need to score some points in their own game—the legislature.

By continuing to fight each other as in the past, they would virtually assure that no major legislative accomplishments would be forthcoming in 1974.

By working together, the governor and the speaker probably have enough clout in the legislature to win bipartisan approval of some programs welcomed by the public and thereby gain some approval for themselves.

This is especially so in a legislature so closely divided, with Republicans holding a one-vote edge in both House and Senate.

This has been a fragmented legislature since convening in 1973, with various blocs vying for influence and traditional party discipline far less effective than in the past.

Walker, for instance, can rarely count on Daley's Chicago Democratic legislators, while Blair has found many enemies in the bitter battles for the speakership that he can never count on a reliable majority in the House, much less in the Senate.

Concern over American attitude toward Israel

(Near East Report)

Passover, which recalls the exodus of Jews from Egypt, was not an occasion for celebration this month.

There were clouds of concern because of alarming developments inside Israel, on her borders and in Washington.

Inside Israel, there was an unprecedented governmental crisis over the issue: Who shall bear responsibility for blunders in the October war?

On her northern frontier, the Syrian War of Attrition went into its fifth week. Syria's purpose may be to mount pressure on Israel to yield to Syrian terms during the forthcoming disengagement agreement negotiations. But the shooting exchanges may burst into all-out war.

In the Persian Gulf, the United States is entering into a new agreement with Saudi Arabia, to spur her industrial development and strengthen her military defenses, in order to ensure a steady flow of oil and money to the United States.

This may, in the future, present a new military and diplomatic threat to Israel.

In Washington, there was public silence on the Administration's aid program.

The administration had not disclosed how it plans to allocate funds which were voted to enable Israel to pay for arms.

In the meantime, Israel has Administration responded favorably to Israel's urgent request for $1.5 billion in arms requested Congress to appropriate $2.2 billion for this purpose.

Congress provided that up to $1.5 billion may be furnished in the form of grants. It was further provided that the President should report to Congress if additional funds were needed and these were to be made available in the form of loans.

During the war, Israel's arms procurement approximated $1 billion and it was understood that the law permitted her 120 days in which to pay. Accordingly, it was expected that the administration would reach a decision on the allocation of the $2.2 billion by February.

The program for fiscal 1973 is now in preparation at State and it is expected to include new aid for Jordan and the resumption of aid for Egypt.

Uncertainty on the question of future American aid is disturbing at a time when Israel faces new Arab pressures in the negotiations with Syria.

On top of this, the total amount of American assistance under the 1974 appropriation may have fallen to the extent of $150 million by a Congressional move requiring Israel to pay for her weapons she purchased in October at the cost of their replacement.

Arab leaders have been making the claim that American policy has changed and now favors them. There is no doubt that there has been a change in U.S. policy.

Our government has assumed a much more active role in a search for a settlement. It is no longer content to drift along with an explosive no-war, no-peace situation.

But the major question is whether there has been a change in Egyptian policy and whether President Sadat is really ready to enter into a genuine peace with Israel.

While the friendly relationship which the U.S. is now enjoying with Egypt and Saudi Arabia may be positive gains for the United States and setbacks for the Soviet Union, there is the obvious danger that the Arabs will be encouraged to raise their demands that Israel pay the price.

In the light of these developments and uncertainties, it is understandable that there should be misgivings about the course of developments in the days and months ahead.

Spirit Lifter for the week

Worry, says a psychiatrist, is the great modern plague. When it is chronic, all your thoughts become cluttered with worry. What can be done to correct this situation? Cultivate faith, for faith is the only thought pattern stronger than worry.

To become a person of faith,

The FORUM County policy on dogs is assailed

To the Editor:
It is highly unlikely that the Madison County Board could control the spread of rabies at all if the local veterinarians did not volunteer to do the county's job for them—namely, provide inoculations for dogs and be the vehicle through which the county collects its money.

Although the vets assist the county in collecting money and provide rabies shots to the public, this county board objects to patronizing this group. Rabies control depends upon the number of dogs vaccinated rather than the number of dogs owned.

Vaccinations are administered in these categories: (1) pure pound enforcement (charge is absolute, shot is optional); (2) volunteer low-cost rabies clinics; and (3) private veterinarian offices.

In 1973, Madison County was responsible for administering nearly 1,000 inoculations at a cost of more than $37 each. If you think that is extravagant, in 1974 the cost of the county enforcement of vaccinations will amount to more than $70 per shot, as the budget will go from $37,000 to $140,000.

Comparing the cost of the county pound to the volunteer rabies clinics, one can see where all our money is going and why we can't have more of our money for ourselves.

The local veterinarians volunteer their time and reduce the cost of rabies shots at local clinics to encourage citizens to get shots for their dogs. These clinics are forced to buy dead dogs and administer approximately 18,000 vaccinations at no cost to the citizens.

The vets provide 18,000 shots free to the public while they pay the county $37,000 to administer 1,000 shots.

Without these veterinarian volunteer clinics, Madison County would have had to collect $814,000 to provide 22,000 shots in 1973.

Although this county board depends on the veterinarian clinics to control rabies and also depends upon the vets to assist in the major role of acquiring revenue for the county, the board sees no justification for patronizing this dedicated group.

The veterinarians do the job and see that the county gets money for a program, and yet the county refrains from doing business with them.

The county squanders the money on an inadequate, obsolete, antiquated pest control service.

If this county spent the money ($100,000) on a pest prevention service by subsidizing sterilization fees, they could easily have enough money to prevent rabies on the $40,000 left over.

Last year, they boasted an adequate service on $37,000 and said if only they could get the money we could have a sterilization service.

This year they will take in $140,000 to do the same job. They are accelerating a retrogressive program.

The political promises are still, "if we get the money, then we will sterilize the dogs and we will use all we get on our pounds."

Who wants to buy a dogcatcher who will kill their dogs? Citizens who are forced to buy dead dogs are oppressed by extravagant elected officials.

Citizens who object to a public sterilization service should realize it is the only means which can reduce the dog population effectively and humanely.

Each is responsible for own tax return

To the Editor:

A St. Louis editorial April 5 commended President Nixon for agreeing to pay the additional $465,000 in income taxes the Congressional Joint Committee on Internal Revenue, Taxation and Internal Revenue Service found that he owed.

All my life I have been taught that the payment of taxes is an obligation of every citizen of the United States, and that any effort to evade proper payment of taxes would result in being incarcerated, fined, or both. President Nixon deserves no commendation for paying taxes he tried to avoid.

The Internal Revenue Service reports that no evidence of fraud was found. What about the backdating of a legal document for the purpose of obtaining an otherwise illegal deduction for income tax purposes?

It is understandable that no fraud was found, since it was the IRS that never investigated Mr. Nixon's return for 1969 in the first place, letting the statute of limitations run despite the enormous claim for deductions on the doubtful gift of papers.

It is now reported that if President Nixon pays the taxes for 1969, due to the statute of limitations, he will be able to deduct the taxes for that year in his 1974 income tax return, and end up owing no taxes for 1974.

When the IRS finally got around to investigating the returns last May, a fast audit was completed and the official language wrote the President: "I want to compliment you on the care shown in the preparation of your returns."

That man, William D. Waters, has since been promoted to head the Philadelphia regional office.

Pres. Nixon states the deductions disallowed by the committee and the IRS were claimed by his tax preparers without his knowledge.

When the President signs his tax return, responsibility for and knowledge of the content was acknowledged. The President, a lawyer, is well aware of this fact.

$1,302,500 insurance plan for park district

A $1,302,500 insurance package covering all physical property owned by the Granite City Park District was approved last night at a meeting of the Granite City Board of Commissioners.

The policy to be underwritten through the Granite City Insurance Board will have a total of 13 insurance agents sharing in the plan, with Charles A. Meyer of Steele-Rummenger Agency listed as the agent of record.

The three-year policy has an annual premium payment of $5,680. Combining all aspects of vandalism insurance against fire, property, windstorm, hail, tornado and extended coverage into a single group plan policy through the local insurance board will result in a saving to district taxpayers of between $1,200 and $1,400 per year, Henry Gabriel, board president, said.

The board commended James M. Henderson of Lueders Real Estate Agency who conducted an appraisal of park property as a civic gesture without charge. A similar appraisal by St. Louis firm was expected to cost about $2,500. Updating the evaluation of park district property in toto was last accomplished about six years ago upon completion of the Wilson Park pavilion, it was learned.

In other business, commissioners granted a five-foot easement along the north side of Parkway Drive to Archer Daniels Midland Co. for maintenance of a sewer on adjacent property.

It was reported the firm has installed a 12-inch gravity flow system which will permit area residents to "tap on" and benefit the entire region instead of installing a restricted line. Repairs to the Wilson Park tennis courts were approved, including purchase of 13 tall poles and 14 line posts, costing $1,268, and lighting fixtures replaced at a cost of $346 by Dr. Electric Co., were authorized.

Two bleacher sets, one three-row unit, costing $226, and a five-row section, costing $458, will be purchased from Miracle Equipment Co.

A father-son compore on May 3 was approved, and the Boy Scouts was approved. A total of 85 tents will be erected for the overnight stay, commissioners were advised.

Also approved was a second request for a 10-day camp at Wilson Park for handicapped children. An agreement by a sponsoring group to contribute a $5-per-child fee for each non-district resident who participates was approved.

Four face 3 charges

Four men were charged with unlawful use of weapons, possession of burglary tools and possession of cannabis after a raid on a residence in St. Louis.

Deputies found their car disabled on Route 3 just north of Interstate 270 at 1:30 a.m. today.

Deputies allege the men threw something in the weeds near the car. The officers said they recovered three guns from the weeds. The man also allegedly carried live ammunition.

In the trunk of the car, a large quantity of copper wire was found. Deputies are now investigating the origin of the wire.

One man was thought to have thrown something into the deputy's car and a bag containing what was believed to be marijuana was recovered from under the car, officers reported.

Charged were Eugene Sanders, 26, of 107 Carver St., and Eddie Harper, 27, of 284 Perry St., both in Eagle Park Acres; John Latham, 31, of 85 Grenzer Homes, Madison, and Leroy Davis, 29, of East St. Louis.

GC man arrested on three charges

Harry Snell, 26, of 1937 Grand Ave., was arrested at home at 1:40 p.m. Tuesday on two Granite City warrants charging burglary and a Madison warrant charging theft.

Snell pleaded innocent to all charges Wednesday before Judge Andreas Matosian in Granite City. Judge Matosian set bond at $1,000 on the burglary charge and $400 on each burglary charge, then released Snell on his own recognizance.

Petition drive to remain in Belleville College area

A petition drive was launched in Granite City this week to voice local sentiment for remaining in Belleville Area College when new boundaries become official July 1.

Opposing petitions seeking children's agreement by the Illinois Community College Board hearing being scheduled for May 15, Granite City High School South auditorium.

Only the Granite City school district area is involved in the detachment issue, which could lead to a special election if additional negative-to-BAC petitions are signed and filed.

Madison, Venice and Collinsville are irrevocably committed to BAC membership, the state has ruled.

Reasons why Granite City schools may be in financial jeopardy unless it is annexed to Belleville Area College were outlined to Granite City Rotarians on Tuesday by School Supt. Robert Jackson.

The BAC tax rate is 20.4 cents per $100 valuation and is likely to drop, the Rotarians were told. The present Lewis and Clark rate is 27.9 cents.

He said BAC has agreed to take over many of the college and adult level services traditionally provided in Granite City.

Detachment would burden Granite City schools with estimated $140,000 yearly tuition costs that would have to be met by shifting funds away from existing kindergarten-through-twelfth grade services, the club was told.

Lewis and Clark Community College students circulated the anti-BAC petitions and more than a half-million dollars a year in Granite Cityans' property taxes would go to Lewis and Clark if this area later is assigned to it, Supt. Davis said.

Amsted has big backlog of orders for rail car components

Amsted Industries, parent corporation of the American Steel Foundries plant in Granite City, reported its earnings Monday for the six months ended March 31. The earnings of $7,351,000 were up 34 per cent from a $5,775,000 figure last year.

Earnings per share rose 27 per cent to $2.66 from $2.09. Sales in the six months amounted to $212,138,000, up 24 per cent from $171,545,000.

Net income in the quarter ended March 31, 1974, of $4,024,000 was up 30 per cent from $3,084,000 in January-March 1973. Per share earnings increased 34 per cent to $1.50 from $1.12.

Sales in the quarter were up 26 per cent to $112,000,000 from $88,728,000 in the comparable period last year.

Golf Smith, president, and Joseph B. Lanterman, chairman, said at Chicago Monday that sales were up in each major product area—in the March quarter and for the six months.

The largest increase was in shipments of railroad products, due principally to the increase in new freight car building.

The Amsted executives noted that "earnings for both the quarter and six months would have been higher had it not been for rapid increases in raw material prices, particularly ferrous metal scrap."

These increases were only partially recovered through higher selling prices because of the time lag in implementing price increases under price control regulations.

As of April 1, over 90 per cent of Amsted's products had been decontrolled by the Cost of Living Council. Most of that action occurred in the last half of the March quarter and, consequently, the company derived little benefit during the quarter.

Smith and Lanterman said, "It is expected that all Amsted products will be exempt from controls after April 30."

They added, "This should permit the company to improve profit margins for most products by obtaining selling prices that are more realistic."

Amsted's backlog of orders at March 31 was at an all-time high of $265,000,000 compared to $87,000,000 a year earlier and $151,000,000 at Sept. 30, 1973.

The largest increase in backlog was in orders for components for new freight cars.

During the past several months, most of the company's operations experienced some shortages in raw materials and supplies.

Although the adverse effect on Amsted's results to date has not been significant, Smith and Lanterman said, "It is difficult to forecast the severity of material and energy shortages that may occur and what effect such shortages may have on operations in the balance of the fiscal year."

"It is anticipated, however, that income in the last half of the fiscal year will exceed that of the comparable period a year ago, resulting in another record year for Amsted."

Additions to fixed assets were $5,800,000 in the first six months and are expected to amount to about $14,000,000 for the entire 1974 fiscal year.

Total debt at March 31 amounted to $10,500,000 and was down $1,750,000 from a year ago. The reduction in debt would have been greater had it not been for the additional funds required to carry inventories as a result of the abnormal inflationary trend in the general economy, it was noted.

Officials to seek more U.S. aid to repair sewer breaks

Officials of Granite City, Madison, Venice, Cahokia, East St. Louis, Centerville and other areas met with representatives of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District and governmental officials here Monday afternoon to discuss ways of extending federal disaster aid for sewer breaks.

The Federal Disaster Assistance Administration office in Chicago has set a cutoff date of July 1, 1973, for sewer breaks, holding that breaks discovered after that date were not caused by last year's spring floods and therefore do not qualify for funds from disaster assistance.

A statement prepared by Edward C. Grady, assistant city engineer of East St. Louis and read at the meeting by Jack Scoville, president of the levee district, called the cutoff date an "absurd determination made by the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration."

In the letter, sent to the Department of Housing and Urban Development in Washington, D. C., Grady said, "It is my feeling that the intent of the Federal Disaster Law was to help communities recover from natural disaster in a timely manner, but I have found that certain individuals in the FDAA are negligent in completing this duty and would rather pursue a goal of limiting funds, whatever the motive."

Grady's letter continued, "These types of ridiculous remarks and determinations made from an office in Springfield without a full understanding, coupled with the suffering of many citizens, is indicative of the type of work we, who do the work and meet the people, see."

After Scoville read the letter, Grady explained, "These damages occurred during the flood. We just could not see them. The FDAA has said unless the break could be seen from the surface before July 1, it was not there. That is a ridiculous statement to make."

Scoville commented, "It has become apparent we could well be on the brink of financial ruin with sewer breaks in this area."

He called on the city and township officials to jointly fight the FDAA rule and seek an extension of the cutoff date.

"With new breaks occurring every day, we are not going to be responsible for any subsequent breaks. We feel we can not be responsible until these lines are repaired 100 per cent. We just can not live with these absurd rules the FDAA has set," Scoville added.

Complaints also were heard that an FDAA deadline of Monday for completing repairs of all sewer breaks is unable to be met. The date first was Feb. 28, but an extension to April 29 was granted to this area.

William L. Eisele, regional director of the Illinois Civil Defense Agency and the Office of Emergency Preparedness, told those present that another extension of the completion date for repairs likely could be obtained by an application to his office.

"My office will do everything it can to help you with your problems, but we can not treat new sewer breaks like they were created by a natural disaster. The guidelines are very clear on that," Eisele stated.

Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City said he had gone to Washington to apply for additional sewer repair funds.

"We were told we had to show evidence that breaks which occurred after December were flood related. You have to show that the problem was caused by the floods of 1973.

"At Washington, they would not write any more damage survey reports. We (Granite City) have had four more breaks after December—one we fixed on our own. The others we have had the contractor repair. There does not seem to be any coordination between the FDAA and the program," Schuler concluded.

Breaks in Madison's 84-inch stormwater line from the city to the pumping station near the Granite City Army Installation, and new Venice sewer breaks, also were cited.

Those present agreed to document their problems concerning sewer breaks and the costs of bypass pumping and to combine all of the documents into one package. Copies of the package then will be sent to senators, U. S. representatives and officials who may be able to assist the area in obtaining relief from the costs of sewer breaks.

Nancy Philippi, director of Gov. Daniel Walker's task force on flood control, who also attended, asked for a copy of the package, when completed. She pledged efforts by the state on behalf of this area.

Safety patrols guests at game

A contingent of school safety patrol members from Granite City area schools attended the 15th annual School Safety Patrol Day during the weekend at Busch Memorial Stadium in St. Louis.

The patrol members were guests of the St. Louis Cardinals and the Auto Club of Missouri at a major league game with Montreal. About 8,000 safety patrol members from eastern Missouri and southern Illinois attended.

The game was a tribute to the lifesaving work of the school safety patrol, celebrating its 54th anniversary this year.

Peter and the Wolf visit Blair pupils

Thousands of children in the St. Louis metro-area had the opportunity this spring to see the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville University Theater's production of "Peter and the Wolf," a symphonic tale composed by Sergei Prokofiev, with narration by Alec Clunes.

Under the direction of Gayle Kassing of Collinsville, an SIUE instructor in speech and theater, the theater company presented 16 performances of the dance-drama in 10 area schools, a children's hospital, and on the stage of the University Theater on the SIUE campus.

After each of the 45-minute performances, the actors and actresses mingled with the audience, permitting the children to see at close range the costumed characters from one of the world's most famous fairy tales. Playing the part of a Russian boy was Tom Mueller of Highland. The role of the "dangerous wolf," which Peter captures, was played by Dennis Watkins of Cahokia. Other members of the cast included: bird-Mary Lynn Kusior, Caseyville; duck-Judy Zoeller, Edwardsville; cat-Sherine Boyd, Granite City; grandfather—Matthew Swan, Rockford; and the hunters—Bill Sprick, Bellevue, and Michael Taylor, Cahokia.

Maryanne Klym of Fairview Heights was the assistant director, and Ava Mallet of Madison designed the costumes. Harold Anderson of Bellevue was the sound director, and special costume effects and make-up were supervised by Sheila Richards, instructor in speech and theater. Using a collapsible set which could be transported in a small van, the troupe performed the show at several schools in Madison and St. Clair counties, the St. Louis Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children, and Graham School and Lewis and Clark School, both in St. Louis. The set was designed by Lee Fialek of Wood River, SIUE theater facilities supervisor.

TAKING BOWS AT BLAIR SCHOOL in Madison are some of the members of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville University Theater touring company who presented "Peter and the Wolf." From left: Mary Lynn Kusior, Caseyville; the "duck" (Judy Zoeller, Edwardsville); the "cat" (Sherine Boyd, Granite City); "grandfather" (Matthew Swan, Rockford); the "hunters" (Michael Taylor, Cahokia, and Bill Sprick, Bellevue); and the "wolf" (Dennis Watkins, Cahokia). Gayle Kassing of Collinsville, SIUE instructor in speech and theater, directed performances of the dance-drama in 10 area schools, a children's hospital, and on the University stage.

Goldie Hawn displays acting skill in 'Sugarland Express'

By GENTRY TROTTER

"How do I love thee, Goldie Hawn?" Let me count the ways.

I love thee, Goldie, because thou art a good actress.

I loved thee more when I saw you in Universal Pictures' "Sugarland Express." I was more than entertained.

I love thee, Miss Hawn, because of your delicious role as a gun-chewing mother who had adoption troubles and lots of bad luck. You showed your versatility as an actress.

I love thee because you were surrounded by good performances by actors William Atherton, the jail-breaker, and Michael Sacks and Ben Johnson, the good guys.

I love thee because I enjoyed seeing behind you all of those little bit towns, with winding dusty roads. And all of the other landscape that Texas is so noted for. It is really breath-taking.

I love thee because this PG-rated film has natural warmth. And because you, Miss Hawn, made me laugh and cry.

I am sure the rest of the moviegoers will love you, too, because they will only appreciate you and the movie by checking it out for themselves. I love you so much I give you my rating of gold.

I was literally overwhelmed with excitement when I saw a performance of "Here Lies Jeremy Troy" at the Barn Theatre. So much so that I decided to tell you all about it.

Picture actor Robert Thorson taking on a role of a legal clerk, who cons his way into many courtrooms without a law degree.

Now picture actor James Paul, who plays a brilliant boss and a person who could care less if anybody loves him, a law degree, just as long as they can work.

Mr. Paul steals the show with his dominating comical dialogue.

Then picture a middle class wife, who has had the truth kept from her so long until she'll do most anything to keep her husband in a good position. That's actress Debbie Campion.

Now picture Debbie wondering how actress Rita Nightman fits into her life and her husband's life. Rita effectively joins the situation comedy as a questionable visitor and a questionable escort employee.

Now picture Rita with actor Gerald Castillo, who plays an artsy kind of guy who has a lust for blackmailing. Who needs friends like him?

Now picture finally the entire cast giving you an evening of good acting and loads of fun. You don't have to be a big name to capture the hearts of thousands. Rate it as good.

"What lurks behind those curtains? Well, I don't know, but the shadow does."

"Catch Me If You Can," playing at the Curtain Up Dinner Theatre, has a most outstanding line which casts a pretty large shadow upon its presentation as a piece of art. Every diamond has a flaw and "Catch Me If You Can" is no exception.

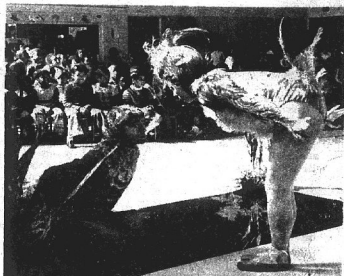

I would really like to see a stage production which comes alive in the first act, not on the second, third or fourth. And if a cast member needs Geritol, then so be it.

If the director needs more props and a larger stage to make a mystery feel and look like a mystery, then so be it.

You'll see an advertising executive, who is a detective and a refreshing little caterer, who performs with much gusto.

That's Ken Karp, who really is the only one to make me believe he enjoys doing his part.

I am not going to give the details in the ending of this stage production, but I can assure you it's not an Alfred Hitchcock thriller. Its rating is fair.

THE DUCK AND THE BIRD, two of "Peter's friends" in the story, "Peter and the Wolf," communicate in a scene from a dance-drama version of the fairy tale, presented by the University Theater of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The "duck" is Judy Zoeller of Edwardsville, and playing the role of the "bird" is Mary Lynn Kusior of Caseyville. Watching the performance are students at Madison's Blair School.

THE 'HUNTERS' (Bill Sprick of Bellevue and Michael Taylor of Cahokia) search for a "dangerous wolf" in a performance of "Peter and the Wolf" at Blair School in Madison. They do not realize the "wolf" (Dennis Watkins, Cahokia) has been captured by "Peter" (Tom Mueller, Highland), kneeling on the branches of the "tree" in the background. Presented by a touring company of the University Theater of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, the dance-drama was performed for thousands of children in area schools and a children's hospital.

THE THRILL of personally seeing and talking with costumed actors and actresses was experienced by children in area schools this spring when a touring company of the University Theater of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville presented a dance-drama version of "Peter and the Wolf." The members of the cast mingled with the audience after each of 16 performances. Talking with Blair School students in Madison is the "duck" from the show, Judy Zoeller of Edwardsville.

Nameoki Presbyterian plans kick-off dinner

A silver anniversary kick-off dinner for a $46,000 church remodeling program at Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road, will be attended by the members Wednesday evening the Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor, announced today.

The dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m. at St. John United Church of Christ with Mrs. William Corliss in charge of the dinner arrangements.

Mrs. John Sighe will head the advance gift committee and Al Badt is chairman of the finance committee. Allen Cox is serving as chairman of the silver anniversary remodeling committee.

The remodeling proposal adopted by the congregation will reshape the sanctuary through the use of wall graphics and carpet on the side walls. The pews will be refinished and relocated.

With the reorientation of the sanctuary, the plan will provide "larger possibilities for the worship services in a dynamic and attractive setting," Rev. Pierson said.

The project also will include renovation and refurbishing of the fellowship and Christian education areas with new carpet, meetings, receptions, church suppers and youth activities.

The multi-use area will have new lighting and acoustical ceiling with screen storage.

The pastor added the entire concept also will furnish more storage facilities and include the redesigning of Narthex and entrances.

Rev. Pierson said the inspirational atmosphere for the growing congregation was developed by the firm of Westburg-Klaus Associates of Minneapolis, Minn., working out of St. Louis office.

Historical data furnished by the minister revealed the present church began in 1950 as a mission of Granite City's First United Presbyterian Church and began meeting in the Nameoki School.

A large number of improvements to the physical plant has included the addition of a church steeple and Carolan. This latter addition was made in memory of George W. Stearns, one of the pioneers of the Nameoki Church, Rev. Pierson reported.

Wives of U.S. Senate candidates to aid in campaign

Question: What do you think your role will be in the campaign? How active do you expect to be?

Nancy Stevenson: Of course, some of that is shaped by family needs and that kind of thing. But I'll be absolutely as active as taking care of my family allows. I'm interested, I get a lot out of it myself in terms of the fascination and pleasure of meeting people and seeing the state. And I always like to go into the campaign offices and do the sort of basic work like filing and addressing envelopes, so I hope to be in various parts of the campaign.

Q. What do you think are the major issues of the campaign?

A. Well, I think they will change in the course of the campaign. Of course, none of the basic issues change. Inflation will certainly be a big issue. The energy crisis is mirrored in inflation. We pay for the cost increase of gas and oil in every single commodity that we use, so we see it again and again. In food, you know, we see it about four or five times, because there's the cost of planting, the cost of caring and the cost of reaping, and the cost of the transportation of food. Energy is part of the inflationary spiral but it's not the only thing. So, that's a very major issue.

How that affects employment will be important. ... And we are more and more in short supply of our basic needs. Many of them have been exported abroad, or because of inflation have become harder and harder to produce or it's lumber, it's paper, it's oil, it's soybeans, it's fertilizer. All of these are basic supplies which are not in the reach of everybody.

Q. Sen. Stevenson's proposal for an oil and gas corporation exploring federal lands was criticized by both Mr. and Mrs. Burditt. They seem to feel generally that we should be less dependent on the federal government to solve all the problems.

A. I think that when the local governments can handle it and solve it, that's marvelous, but there are so many things that we've seen that really don't fall into that category. The government is involved in oil and gas supplies, whether they choose to admit it or not. We see this in the whole energy situation. It even affects foreign policy. So it is a pretense, it is pretending, to say it's not an issue that federal government should deal with, as far as I'm concerned, because it's a national issue. There must be some regulation to make sure it stays free and private enterprise. ... Certainly government shouldn't be involved just for the sake of being involved. Where it's not necessary, they should back off.

Q. Do you think Watergate will be an issue?

A. I certainly think that integrity in government and campaign financing and reform is another issue in that list of issues. That's very important and vital. We won't be talking about Watergate per se, but about seeing that government is protected from the various techniques that we mean when we talk about the Watergate package. These are all issues that should be dealt with. But why not get on to the positive things that must be done to make sure this doesn't happen again.

Q. How can public confidence in government be restored?

A. A lot of that will be first to create some legislation and demand for full public disclosure and campaign ceilings and ceilings on private gifts. ... All of that — if fully enforced — and it will take time, however every single one of those will help. There's no other way to do it but to move forward in this area and keep the public standards up, and have the public keep demanding that the standards be held to.

Q. How will the Watergate issue affect your husband in the campaign, as an incumbent?

A. I can't assess that. Let's just hope ... that people are judged for what they do, stand for, care about.

Q. You don't feel, then, that all politicians have been tainted by the scandals?

A. I think there's some concern about that, but after all, Mr. Burditt and Ad are both feeling it. I happen to think that politics can be a good word, not a bad word. Politician can be a good word and not a bad word. ... I know it's going to be a problem with many people. I was shaking hands in a shopping center and two out of the maybe 50 people said, I'm not voting for anybody. And that distresses me because they're giving up the opportunity to shape the future in the way that they want it. They are doing that because they've been discouraged and disillusioned. I'm Question: What will your role be in the campaign? How active will you be?

Barbara Burditt: As much as required. I've gone with George on most of his trips. This is the first time we've gone through a political campaign of this magnitude, so I don't know what's expected, but I am willing to do anything. I've never given speeches but if I have to give one, I'll give one. ... I imagine we'll be doing some separate campaigning. I'd like to just go with him. I enjoy being with him. And I've heard him say, and it's true, that we hardly see each other in real life, but when we campaign we see a lot of each other — and I'm enjoying it.

Q. What do you see as the major issues of the campaign?

A. Well, I think Watergate's an awful big issue, or name it something else if you want — ethics in government. And I think the economy is a big issue. I think people are hurting in the pocketbooks and all that is tied in with the gas situation and the grocery store bit. I know I went to the store the other day for some groceries and I just couldn't believe it ...

Q. Do you think Watergate will hurt your husband's campaign?

A. I think it could possibly. But he's not connected in any way with Washington.

Q. Will it hurt him because he is a Republican?

A. I think that from what I've seen in these elections recently the Republicans are voting Democratic to register a protest. At least that's the way I interpret it. So no matter what, suppose they might vote against you because you're a Republican and people are saying they don't like it.

Q. Do you feel politicians as a whole are tainted by Watergate?

A. No, I think there are many, many honest people in politics — many more honest than dishonest. It's just the bad ones that really show up.

Q. How can public confidence in government be restored?

A. Well, the system's working. When they find that something is wrong, Agnew for instance, he is removed, or resigns. It wasn't glossed over. Gerald Ford, I think, is a very honest man. ... Did you watch his sessions on television? Goodnight! These politicians are gutsy just to stand up there and allow someone to make them answer a question about every little thing in their personal affairs. I mean, what private citizen has to go through that? But I suppose if that's the only way to be sure about them, it has to be done. I resent it, though.

Q. Your husband has mentioned in his speeches that we shouldn't depend on the federal government to solve all the problems. As a U.S. senator, what would be his role, do you think, in assisting the people of Illinois to solve problems on a local level?

A. I agree with him. Revenue sharing, I think, is one way. As we've traveled around we've found that there are different problems in different parts of the state. I don't know exactly how it works, but if you're aware that there are road problems, or a dam or railroad or something, I think as a representative of Illinois you'd be able to do something about it.

Q. How can the energy shortage, for instance, be dealt with on a local level?

A. I just don't like to see government step in and take over. ... I just don't have that much confidence in the people who work in Washington. All these huge buildings and all these employees pouring in and out. George, I think, feels that way partly because of his experience working with the Food and Drug Administration, and HEW (Department of Health, Education and Welfare) — there's so much red tape. I have more confidence in the oil companies, I guess, than the Stevensons probably do.

Q. What do you think about Sen. Stevenson's proposal to set up a government and private corporation to explore for oil and gas on federally-owned property?

A. I just don't think the government belongs in the oil business. I don't think they're qualified to handle it. I think it would be a fiasco. They haven't done very well with Amtrak, and I know at home instead of using the post office, we'd run out to the UPS (United Parcel Service) to mail our packages — it's quick and it's cheaper.

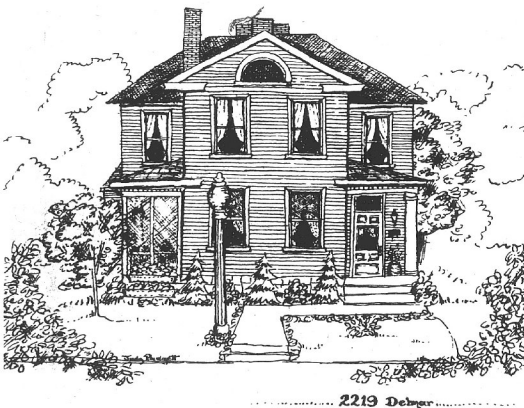

If it's in that business to that extent, how can you pay all the people (who would work in the corporation)? It's going to be a tremendous increase. I mean, it seems we don't want to pay the increase in gas prices, but if we're going to let the government take over, it's going to cost us just as much in taxes.

Q. Why should people vote for your husband?

A. Well, he's real active. He's a very hard worker. Smart. Ethical. I just believe in him. I believe he can do the job. I've seen him do the job, and I think a lot of doing a good job is wanting to do it, and being excited about it and getting into it. He's very capable, and he's strong.

... And he's a good campaigner. He's a very warm person, and likes to campaign. As the days go on, and you start early in the morning shaking hands, he just gets more and more into it. The adrenalin flows. I start good and fade.

As part of the latter award, the youngster will attend the Rose Bowl parade in December in California. She also won first place in talent competition by performing a banner twirling solo.

Her 7-year-old sister, Sandra

Eagles' auxiliaries to convene

Representatives from eight Eagles' Auxiliary units will convene at the Granite City Eagles Aerie 1126 Sunday for a district meeting. Mrs. Dolores Sanders, president of the local auxiliary, announced at a meeting here Tuesday night.

Women from groups in Belleville, East St. Louis, Collinsville, Alton, Jerseyville, Roxana and Edwardsville will join with Granite City members at 2 p.m. Sunday, Mrs. Sanders said. Mrs. Edna Wolfbrandt of Collinsville, district chairman, will preside.

A potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. Saturday also is planned. A benefit dance was arranged for Saturday, May 4, at the Eagles Home to help the auxiliary's state project of aid to retarded children. Tickets for the club event may be obtained at the present time, Mrs. Sanders said.

The business meeting session was followed by a social hour with Mrs. Nancy Mullen and Mrs. Helen Frazier, hostesses, serving refreshments to 35 members. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Beverly Spurgeon and Mrs. Theresa Danco.

An election of officers is planned at the May 14 meeting. It was announced.

Sea Adventures is Pack 8 theme

"Sea Adventures" was the theme of a Cub Pack 8 meeting at the First United Presbyterian Church Monday night.

Warren Nash, cubmaster, led the pledge to the flag and introduced the guest speaker, Larry Earney, a member of the Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club.

Earney spoke on the importance of safety precautions while swimming and diving. He demonstrated the use of diving equipment and displayed shells, hermit crabs, sand dollars and other items found underwater. In keeping with the theme, several display tables held "octopi" wall plaques and paperweight sea scenes.

A skit, entitled "Sorry Charlie," was performed by Scott Foote, Mark Vanzo, John Kait, and Vince Shanks of Den 2, directed by Mrs. Pat Foote, leader.

Mrs. Judy Miller was introduced as a new den leader. It was reported that a Webelos leader is being sought for the pack.

Cubmaster Nash said the boys will attend a bike safety film Saturday at the Washington Theatre.

Other plans announced, include: A May 4 trip to the Colonial Haring Nursing Home to distribute bud vases and flowers as a "May Day" project; participation in the Lewis and Clark Pilgrimage on May 11, with cub taking a sack lunch and hiking 6½ miles along the Chain of Rocks Canal levee; and marching in the May 30 "Parade of Flags" event, sponsored by the DAV Auxiliary.

Boys were reminded to recruit a buddy for Cub Scout Day Camp and register names as quickly as possible. Registration fees are being accepted on a first come, first serve basis, Nash said.

Receiving awards were Ronald and Donald Miller and David Noble, one-year service stars; and Tony Trout and Kenneth Taylor, two-year pins. The ceremony was followed with a uniform inspection period.

"Keep America Beautiful" will be the theme of the May 20 meeting, scheduled to start at 7 p.m.

Recitation of the Cub Scout Prayer and refreshments served by Den 2 mothers closed the pack event.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF GRANITE CITY, ILLINOIS, as follows:

SECTION 1: That it is the declared policy of the Mayor and City Council of the City of Granite City that mobile homes, when constructed, installed and used as places of residence within the City of Granite City, shall conform as much as possible and comply with those ordinances of the City and other applicable laws of the State of Illinois as those applicable to the conventionally constructed dwelling houses governed by the usual building codes and minimum housing standards.

Act, for the purpose of this Act, shall have the following meanings:

(e) "Seal" means a device or insignia issued by the Building Inspector to be displayed on the exterior of the mobile home to evidence compliance with the Safety Code.

SECTION 3: That mobile homes shall be located on a lot of no smaller than fifty (35) feet in width and at least one hundred, ten (110) feet in length, and shall be located on the front of the lot to (a) conform with the improvements located on adjoining lots and in the same block, or (b) be at least twenty-five (25) feet from said front line, whichever is the greatest.

SECTION 6: All electrical distribution lines to a mobile home, including the outside electrical service, shall either be buried at least 18 inches below the ground surface, or shall be suspended above ground level at a height of no less than ten feet, and shall be installed and maintained in accordance with the applicable electric code and regulations as contained in the City's Building Code, and each mobile home shall be supplied with 220 volt AC service of no less than 100 Amperes.

SECTION 7: All plumbing services and sanitary plumbing shall comply with the normal and usual plumbing service, as prescribed by the Plumbing Code of the State of Illinois, and shall be strict conformity therewith in all respects.

Marshall PTA installs officers

Newly elected officers of Marshall PTA were installed at the final meeting of the year held last week in Marshall School cafeteria.

Those who will serve in 1974-75, are: Bill Schreiber, president; Dennis Sturman, vice-president; Rose Arnold, secretary and Sue Reading, treasurer.

The program for the evening was a recognition ceremony honoring faculty members for "providing an interesting and educational PTA year."

Richard Ault, Marshall principal, served as PTA president during 1973-74. He was assisted by Robert McBride, a fifth grade teacher, as vice-president.

Teachers participated in the monthly meetings, furnishing a variety of topics. Among those taking part were Dan Rahn, speech therapist; Nancy St. Ivany, remedial reading; Joyce Hicks, learning disabilities; Judith Collins, physical education; Patricia Michaeloff, music; Mrs. Judith Collins, who directed the Christmas program; and Peggy Cunningham and Janice Miller, first grade teachers, who presented "The Gingerbread Boy" with their students performing in the play.

Reviewing the events of the PTA year, it was noted the flag ceremony was conducted by scouts sponsored by the school at each meeting.

Scout groups serving in the presentation of colors were Girl Scout Troop 709 and Brownie troops 110 and 140, under the leadership of Rosemarie Ortiz, Nancy Wickham, Bonnie Lazenby and Sue Reading, and Cub Pack 17, directed by Bill Johnson, Joyce Wilson, Darlene Livingston and Shirley Gann.

DeMolay officers installed

The Granite City Court of Chevaliers installed the Senior and Junior line officers of James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay, in ceremonies at the Masonic Temple.

The installing team was composed of Charles E. Hillman Jr., installing officer; Hiram B. Ables, installing senior counselor; Roy W. Willmzig, installing junior counselor; Robert F. Maxwell, installing marshal; Everett G. Steele, installing chaplain. J. Mark Swigert was installed as master counselor. Other senior officers installed were: David M. Epping, senior counselor; Anthony P. Tsigolaroff Jr., counselor; Timothy A. Swigert, chaplain; Richard L. Hillman, junior deacon; James S. Boyd, senior steward; David W. Price, junior steward. John Hakkarainen, sentinel; Charles E. Powell, standard bearer; Robert Daugherty, protom for Kevin E. Patterson, almoner; Joseph L. Young, marshal; Stanley C. Myers, orator; Norman E. Burgess Jr., first preceptor; Robert C. DeCourcy, second preceptor; David E. Ebrecht, third preceptor; Keith E. Easley, fourth preceptor; Andrew McGovern, protom for Laurent M. Ferrere, fifth preceptor; W. John DeShon Jr., sixth preceptor; Bruce M. Groshong, seventh preceptor; William B. Berger, scribe. Junior line officers installed were: Michael A. Worthen, master counselor; Jack Allen Dempsey, senior counselor; Mark A. Doolittle, junior counselor; Darrin Obermeier, chaplain; Randy L. Miles, treasurer; Jeffrey M. Sparks, junior deacon; Gregory M. Childress, senior steward.

Mark A. Carroll, sentinel; Frank E. Aldridge Jr., standard bearer; Phillip J. Baker, almoner; Barry W. Church, marshal; Paul R. Woodruff, orator; Michael D. Warren, first preceptor; Johnny L. Staggs, second preceptor; Phillip J. Cathey, third preceptor; Kevin S. Worster, fourth preceptor; Ronald L. Lybarger, fifth preceptor; Edward J. Parker, sixth preceptor; Bradley W. Lane, seventh preceptor; Billy A. Barnes, scribe.

Miss Alicia Hemdrickson sang solos for the master counselor and the master counselor's mother, Mrs. Shirley Swigert. Jack E. Jenkins accompanied her and played for the installation marching. The master counselor had his mother escorted to the East by his brother Tim where he presented her with an arm bouquet of roses and paid her tribute. He then introduced members of his family.

After receiving the gavel of authority from the installing officer, Swigert thanked the members for electing him master counselor and thanked all who had a part in the installation.

Miss Kathy Parnley, the chapter sweetheart and past Illinois DeMolay Sweetheart, was escorted to the East and presented a corsage by Swigert. Introduced were: Miss Joy Pope, Honored Queen of Bethel 48 Job's Daughters, who induced her officers; Dr. Amos Rode, associate guardian of Job's Daughters Bethel 43; and Advisory Council members of the local DeMolay chapter. Mrs. Betty Young, president of the Mother's Club, was introduced and she introduced her officers. All Mother's Club members were asked to stand and were given a standing ovation by the chapter. Swigert thanked the mothers in behalf of the chapter for all their efforts, and presented Mrs. Young with a corsage.

William A. Cochran Jr. was presented his past master counselor's jewel by Charles A. Meyer, chapter advisor. Cochran presented Mark Swigert with a master counselor's pin. The installing marshal escorted Mrs. Peggy Cochran to the East, where Cochran thanked his mother for all the care and understanding she had given him all the years of his life and presented her with a corsage as a token of appreciation. For the first time in recent history of the chapter, two young men were to receive past master counselor's pins at the same installation. William M. Todd, who was installed at the last installation in October, 1973, and had to vacate his office when he and his family returned to Marion, Ill., in November, was not able to be present to receive his pin.

Bill Cochran, the retiring master counselor, presented the "DeMolay of the Term" trophy to David Price.

In announcing coming events, Swigert said that there will be a special meeting Thursday, May 30, 1974, to confer the degrees on a "York Rite" class. Mark said that petitions need to be submitted by May 21 to be considered for the May 30 class. The installation was closed by the "Forming of the Cross" by members of Job's Daughters Bethel 43. The program was followed by dancing and refreshments by the Mother's Club.

PLASTITEX ROOFING

REPAIRS
Colored Elastomeric Plastitex fills small cracks and nail holes, adheres tightly to the roof... benefits roofing granules, ties down shingles and, at the same time, gives a beautiful new look.

INSULATES
The Plastitex coating forms a reflective Elastomeric shield over the entire roof. This helps keep interiors cooler in summer, warmer in winter... lowers air conditioning and heating costs. Remains pliable.

PRESERVES
Moisture doesn't get through, so there's no deterioration of the roofing material. The coating resists the harmful effects of smoke fumes, salt air, sunlight and general weathering. Rerolled roofs gain additional years of life with less maintenance.

SAVES
One coat of Colored Plastitex Elastomeric can save the owner many dollars. It can also eliminate the cost of repair and replacement of building materials, yet extend the useful life of all types of structures.

Glen Carbon safety project

Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) has announced the approval by the Illinois Department of Transportation of a highway safety project which provides for a traffic control device inventory for the Village of Glen Carbon.

"This is another of several efforts which Madison County has undertaken under the Illinois Highway Safety Program to further traffic safety at the local level," Vadalabene said.

"The total cost of the Glen Carbon project will be approximately $2,920," Vadalabene added. "Seventy per cent of this will be reimbursed to the Village, upon completion of the project, from federal funds made available to the State of Illinois under provisions of the Federal Highway Safety Act. This act was passed and signed into law in 1966 to assist the states in accelerating highway safety programs."

"This local project is one of more than 1,200 county and municipal projects conducted as part of the Illinois Highway Safety Program. A number of other projects also are being carried out by State agencies to promote greater highway safety through advanced technology and training," Vadalabene concluded.

TABLE PLAYER STOLEN

An eight track tape player valued at $120 was stolen from the auto of Lewis Tart, 2139 Monroe St., while it was parked in Tart's driveway during the weekend.

Proclaims 'Volunteer Week'

Gov. Dan Walker has proclaimed the week of April 21-27 as "Volunteer Week" and urged Illinoisans to become involved in helping others.

In issuing the proclamation, the governor suggested that people who wish to participate in a volunteer program may write or call the Governor's Office of Volunteer Resources, Room 2000, State of Illinois Building, Chicago 60601 (312-785-5727).

Text of the proclamation follows:

"Concern for others is one of our nation's greatest resources. Although one of every five Americans is now involved in helping others or working for a cause, the reserve of capable and willing persons is largely untapped.

"To assist such individuals and groups in giving of their time and talents to others, the National Center for Voluntary Action, a private, non-profit organization, provides information, technical expertise and other services.

"Our state has been a pioneer in recruiting volunteers, whose help has been of inestimable value in various institutions and community projects. A Volunteer Action Program created at the National Governors' Conference will assist other states in establishing volunteer coordination offices similar to those in Illinois.

"Recognizing the many benefits that accrue from the services of volunteers, who improve their own skills and widen their horizons, while helping others, I proclaim April

2 arrests on

clarinet theft

Charges of theft have been filed by security police at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville against two Alton men arrested on campus with a missing SIUE clarinet and case allegedly in their car.

Arrested during the weekend in a routine license investigation were Stephen D. Mitchell, 20, and Hubert Campbell, 21. They are not registered students at the university.

The men entered pleas of innocent in Madison County Circuit Court and have been released under $3,500 bond pending trial.

21-27 as Volunteer Week and urge all Illinoisans to become involved in helping others."

State tax take higher than predicted level

Higher than expected tax collections during the first nine months of fiscal year 1974 have prevented any serious depletion of the general fund's available balance, Illinois Comptroller George W. Lindberg says in his new monthly financial report.

The nine-month decrease in the available balance is $44 million, with the remaining balance at the end of March pegged at $343 million.

Lindberg warned that the high-collection levels, resulting from the highest inflation rate in 25 years, should not be interpreted as a fiscal bonus, since costs of delivering state services also will tend to rise, such as in the case of public aid, health care, payrolls and correction.

Income tax receipts from July 1973 through March 1974 totaled $939 million, against the governor's prediction of $820 million. Sales tax receipts during the same period were $1,014,000,000, against the predicted $989 million.

Other points in the comptroller's report showed:

General fund expenditures in the nine months of 1973-74 are down $213 million higher than in the same period a year ago.

Total revenues to the general fund are $182 million higher than in the comparable period last year.

The governor has held operational spending in his agencies near last year's levels. Grant programs, such as public aid, are up.

The only measurable impact the energy crisis has had in decreasing state revenues is in the motor fuel tax. The yield over the last three months during the Arab oil embargo was $6 million below fiscal 1973 levels. This compares with the pre-embargo yield for the first

Business Women's awards dinner

Presentation of the Verna Lengyel Scholarship Award to Mrs. Sylvia Wright highlighted the April dinner meeting of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club held in the Officers' Club at the Granite City Army Installation. Guest speaker was George Abner, director of the J. B. Johnson Technical School, Alton, whose topic was "Career Advancement." He was introduced by Mrs. Mary Batson, foundation chairman.

Mrs. Lengyel, a BPW officer for whom the intra-club scholarship was named, presented the award to Mrs. Wright. The winner is continuing her education at the Lewis and Clark Community College, majoring in accounting. She will serve as first vice-president of the local business women's club in 1974-75.

Abner told the women that career advancement "is a mental development which continues on through life. As you mature, your personality, aspirations and desires also mature."

The school administrator said, "At no age should anyone say I am too old to do anything. If life is becoming a drag, may be it is time to look for a change."

Abner stated the J. B. Johnson School will become fully operational on Sept. 1, 1975. It is located at 4200 Humbert Road, Godfrey, and will serve five school districts, including the Granite City district.

Upon completion it will be one of the largest centers of its type in the United States and will cost an estimated $5½ million, the director said.

The center will offer 32 programs for students in grades 9 through 12. About 60 per cent of its operational funds will be contributed by the State of Illinois, Abner said.

Miss Annellen Smith, moderator for the Phase I Class, Individual Development Plan, presented certificates of completion to Mrs. Genevieve Haddix, Mrs. Ann Graklanoff, Mrs. Cleve Whitaker, Mrs. Geraldine Brandley and Mrs. Lois Wetton. The latter also received the "Nike" statuette as the Phase I speak-off winner.

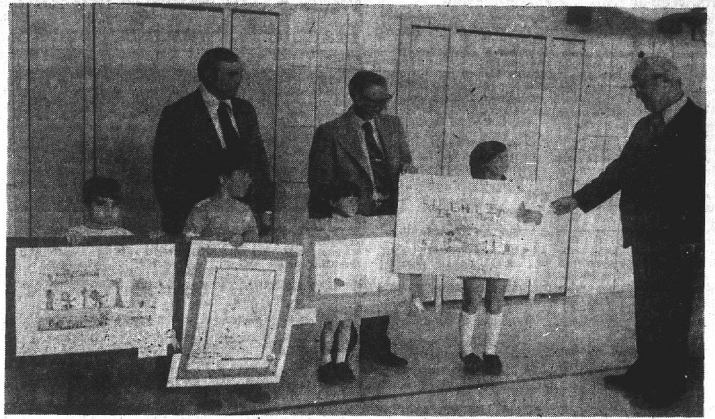

Mrs. Sandra Tadlock and Mrs. Shirley Adams received certificates for completing Phase II of the same course.

Mrs. Adams also was presented a "Nike" as the advance speak-off winner. The local club member won first place honors at the District 14 meet and will compete at the BPW state convention at the Chase-Park Plaza, St. Louis, this weekend.

For sponsoring three new members into the BPW club, Mrs. Adams received a "Shamrock" award from Mrs. Pauline Weir, past president.

"Violet" awards were given to Mrs. Lengyel and Mrs. Becky Slate in recognition of their sponsorship of a new member by a BPW member who is retired from business. The violet nosegay award is named for Mrs. Violet Davis, Illinois BPW president.

Four new members were formally inducted into the

708 board appointments

The Madison County Board has taken action changing the makeup of the Madison County Mental Health (708) Board. Board secretary Alan Clause was replaced by Lloyd Patterson of Venice and present board member Floyd Tomelin was replaced by Norine Steele of Godfrey. Both new appointments are to four-year terms.

The County Board retained Wayne Bridgewater of Roxana, a County Board member, as a member of the 708 Board, reappointing him for four years. In other appointments, the County Board reappointed Marion Sparks, 552 Chouteau Ave., to a three-year term on the Mitchell Fire Protection District Board of Trustees, and Walter Greathouse, 34 Riviera Drive, was appointed to a five-year term on the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals.

Ruth Norton, 4120 Pontoon Road, was appointed a trustee of the Pontoon Beach Public Water District for a five-year term beginning May 6. County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City appointed three to the county's Manpower Advisory Council and the board concurred, bringing the number on that board to nine. Hagnauer said the Council likely will have 15 members when all appointments have been made. The latest appointments to the Manpower Advisory Council were: Robert M. Edmonds, metro director of the National Alliance of Businessmen; Arthur Lindsey, superintendent of the Edwardsville-Veterans Assistance Office; and Nancy McIlroy, job replacement representative for the Illinois Department of Public Aid.

The County Board approved recognition of Teamsters Local 525 as bargaining agent for the three employees of the county's Rabies Control Department. James Heil of Godfrey, a member of the County Board's legislative committee, reported that by Madison County and Bond County joining in the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act Program, the county may add $171,000 per year to its grant for the hiring of temporary employees. The board voted to sign the necessary documents to join the counties in the program. The action must be approved by the U. S. Department of Labor.

Heil also sponsored a resolution opposing the freeze in the distribution of state income taxes, limiting all counties to the total they received last year. The resolution noted declining income from other sources and indicated the additional state income tax funds are essential to continue county operations. Copies are to be sent to the governor and state senators and representatives from Madison County.

The board instructed all county departments to select one person from each department to be trained in the use of microfilm equipment. The new microfilm units have been received and are in the Recorder of Deeds' Office, it was noted.

The Circuit Court was granted permission to seek bids and accept the lowest bid to specifications for air conditioning in the circuit courtroom.

Board members were invited to attend the County Problems Commission hearing at 9 a.m. Monday, April 28, at the Holiday Inn at Sunset Hill. Hagnauer urged the chairman or a representative from each county committee to attend. Officials from several counties will have an opportunity to express their opinions to the commission at the hearing.

The County Problems Commission studies county operations and recommends legislative changes to the state's General Assembly.

A reimbursement claim for the Quad-City Mental Health Center of $9,197 for March was approved by the board.

Women's Caucus worries—Will 2-party system weather the Watergate storm?

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Fears were raised here at the National Women's Political Caucus, maybe out of partisan anxiety, that independents threaten to splinter the two-party system into a gaggle of impotent forces.

This specter of voters and politicians who "don't want to be bound to any political party" was evoked by Mrs. Anne Wexler, who worked for Sen. George McGovern's Presidential campaign and later for Common Cause.

Mrs. Wexler might have been thinking of defecting Democrats, plus independents, who gave Pres. Richard Nixon his landslide.

Her fears aside that the United States may follow France and Italy into their never-never land of "fractionated politics" and this seems most unlikely—Mrs. Wexler did pose an intriguing thesis.

"In the past," she said, "political parties have been organized and having a philosophy, a set of principles and a program."

"What we have now (in both parties) is programs, but no philosophies and no principles."

Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Charles H. Percy, on one of their joint television reports to Illinoisans, have dealt with a similar issue.

Assuming there should be, we asked, "is there a fundamental ideological structure or philosophical content in what Congress does?"

Stevenson took first swing at the question. Here's what the Illinois Democrat said:

"This is one of my complaints about our politics. I don't think it has much ideological content."

"I don't think what we do in Congress is governed by any real political principles, any political philosophies. We're going through a pragmatic period because we are unguided by philosophy."

"We're dealing with crises day to day... Dealing with symptoms and not causes."

"This is tragic," Stevenson added. "There are important issues before us and philosophical questions: What's our role in the world? What should our policy be in the world? What should it be at home?"

"We don't have a policy," he went on to say. "To the extent we divide, it seems to me we divide between the so-called 'progressives,' those who take a rather expansive attitude toward government and its role in our affairs... and on the other hand, those who tend to represent the status quo."

Percy took his cut at the question.

"There can't really be an overall Congressional philosophical approach to what kind of country we want to be."

We're representative of the country. We're as diverse as the nation."

"And we're all individualists—335 senators and congressmen," Percy continued. "We each have to have our own philosophy."

Frequently—to the baffled chagrin of Republican regulars, whose support he wants and must have for his presidential ambitions—Percy boasts he is his "own man."

"I think," he said, "that's what people expect a United States senator to be."

"I don't think they could care less about ideology and labels, providing they believe in his decency, his integrity."

"And sometimes they disagree with his judgment, but at least they know he is trying to vote his conscience and his best judgment and isn't owned or controlled by any special interest group."

From differing perspectives, both Stevenson and Percy believe they reflect Midwestern political values which, in turn, mirror the nation's.

"It is the Heartland; it is the center," says Stevenson.

Illinois, as the statisticians will tell you, is the most perfect cross-section of the nation.

"But if you asked the people what their philosophy was, if you asked a typical public official what his philosophy was, you'd have great difficulty in getting a clear answer."

Club to study organic gardening

"Gardening... naturally" was adopted as the year's upcoming theme by the new officers of the Gardenaires Garden Club when members met last week in the home of Mrs. Earl Glenn for an all-day workshop, luncheon and business meeting.

Mrs. Charles Kohl, newly installed president, reported on the recent District V organizational meeting at the Locust Hills Country Club in Lebanon, which she attended with Mrs. William Bradley of the Cloverview Garden Club and Mrs. Wilmer Winter of the Garden Club.

It was noted that the Gardenaires would be represented on the district board for 1974-75 by Mrs. Glenn as the garden center and books chairman. The District V day of instruction will take place May 23 at the Shiloh Valley Grange Hall, with the Landsdowne Garden Club serving as host, it was announced.

Mrs. A. A. Malottki Jr., outlined the year's schedule for important projects and calendar dates. The club will study Organic Gardening, a subject recommended by the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc., and will devote space in their individual gardens to different varieties of vegetables.

Mrs. Malottki also reported the current display at the Mini-Garden Information Center at the Granite City Public Library, concerned this month with the topic "Environment: reclamation of despoiled land."

Mrs. Kohl and Mrs. Glenn are serving as delegates at the annual meeting of the Garden Club of Illinois, Inc., which concluded Tuesday at the Sheraton-Oak Brook Hotel in Chicago.

Last week's workshop was spent in preparing and packaging several hundred Canna rootstocks for a horticulture gift to the state organization, later to be given to all those registered for the convention.

Others attending were Mrs. Jerry Arbeiter, Mrs. C. E. Eads, Mrs. Mary Kristian, Mrs. William Long and Mrs. Abe Shannon. The members will meet in May at the home of Mrs. Malottki, 33 Oaklawn Drive.

Prizes in the games were won by guests, Mrs. Helen Todoroff and Mrs. Dorothy Shepard, and Mrs. Barbara Nemeth and Mrs. Emma Jakich, members.

A late supper was served by Mrs. Skubish to those named and to Mesdames Winona Kibort, Josephine Oresowich, Rose Perkins and Elsie Hawk.

Mrs. Kibort invited the group to meet with her in May.

Cub leaders hear Dr. Layloff

Dr. Thomas Layloff spoke on the "Family Enrollment Program" at the Uniwah District Cub Scout Roundtable held at Coolidge Junior High School.

The guest speaker stated, "The program is now underway in the Cahokia Mount Council and it is important for everyone to participate in the plans. I don't believe that the sponsoring institutions will support a merger with the St. Louis Boy Scout Council as long as the local council is financially viable," Dr. Layloff added.

During a discussion period, Dr. Layloff reviewed plans for a new Boy Scout office building that presently is being considered.

Theme of the meeting was "Keep America Beautiful." Mrs. Nadene Taylor, Roundtable commissioner, was in charge.

An opening ceremony concerning "Nature" was performed by Darlene Smith of the Roundtable staff; Charles Bufford, Webelos leader, Mitchell Cub Pack 14; Cubmaster Warren Nash, Pack 8, sponsored by First United Presbyterian Church; Judy Hargrove and Diana Ragdale, den leaders, Logan School Pack 4; and Carolyn Beyer, den leader, Maryville School's Pack 98.

Mrs. Smith led the group in song and Mrs. Pat Skubish, Dr. Layloff, Mrs. Ragdale, Mrs. Helen Miller, Mrs. Lois Wright, Mrs. Beyer and Ray Snelson presented a special song and game.

Snelson said the annual "Parade of Flags" will be held at 9 a.m. May 27, and all participating units will be qualified to receive the district's awards.

Vee Throne and Charles Bufford explained the May theme—"Clean-up, Fix-up Projects." It was announced the Lewis and Clark pilgrimage on May 11 will have registration beginning at noon.

District Commissioner John Schrader reviewed national unit awards, and Mrs. Sandy Bufford spoke on the topic "Johnny Horizon '76, Let's Clean up America for Our 200th Birthday."

"Family Frolic and Honor Day" will be the theme for the May 14 Roundtable meeting.

Children's party for Dianne Oliver

Dianne Oliver observed her first birthday at a party given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Oliver, in their home, 2547 E. 24th St.

The youthful honoree was assisted in opening her gifts by children at the party.

Those present were the guest of honor's sister and brother, Marianna and Joey Oliver; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Rehlek, and Mrs. Tom Oliver and children, Shelley and Ra-Chel.

Maryville PTA dinner dance

Tickets for the annual dinner dance sponsored by Maryville School PTA are available at the school at a cost of $10 per person. Mrs. Julia Gates, PTA publicity chairman, has announced.

The dance will be held May 4 at Reidel's Restaurant in Edwardsville. Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. and the dance will begin at 8 p.m., featuring music by the Starlighters. Mrs. Gates reported.

Attend baptism of granddaughter

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Eckert, 2355 Hodges Ave., have returned from Charleston, S.C., where they were house guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Eckert.

While there, the local couple attended the baptism of their granddaughter, Jennifer Lynn Eckert. The infant was born March 17 in Charleston. She weighed 10 pounds, 2½ ounces.

The Rev. Edgar Runge, pastor of Calvary Lutheran Church, Charleston, officiated at the baptismal service. Godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Moser of Pensacola, Fla.

A dinner was served later at the Eckert residence to mark the occasion. Prior to returning home, the Granite City couple spent several days touring various points of historical interest in South Carolina.

Brent Weiss will serve as narrator.

Solos will be performed by Carolyn Mih, Bill Patterson, Deanna Blaylock, Pam Reinhardt, Brian Chastain, Dave Harrison, Becky Flanigan, Paula Fuller, Nick Popichik, Kathy Evans, Linda Parish, Debbie Barlock and Larry Libby.

Urban study outlined

Details were announced this week of a new master of science degree program in urban studies which will be offered by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, beginning with the fall quarter.

Vaughnie J. Lindsay, dean of the SIUE Graduate School, said the program is designed for students who wish to pursue a career in urban-related fields and occupations.

Included will be those who are employed by governmental and quasi-governmental agencies in urban areas who want advanced training, those who require graduate training to enter occupations related to the urban area, and those who wish to increase their understanding of urban problems and to develop insights into urban institutions and processes.

Gilbert Rutman, SIUE professor of economics, is director of the urban studies program.

"The innovative feature of the program is its emphasis on combining classroom instruction, research and experience into an interdisciplinary problem-oriented, career-focused curriculum," Rutman said.

"The curriculum includes disciplinary training in established fields, interdisciplinary instruction in seminars, and experience in solving problems in a laboratory setting and in an apprenticeship program.

"Program activities are designed to link the university with the urban environment by involving the faculty and students in the process of solving ongoing urban problems," Rutman said.

Research assistantships of $3,000 a year, plus tuition waivers are available to qualified students. Other information about the program may be obtained from the director.

Lewis-Clark, Blackburn link

A "milestone in cooperative education" was reached this week when presidents of two area colleges announced an agreement to allow students enrolled at one to attend classes on another campus.

Wilbur R. L. Trimpe, president of Lewis and Clark Community College, Godfrey, and Dr. John R. Alberti, president of Blackburn College, Carlinville, made the joint announcement Monday in East Alton. Negotiations had been in progress since early 1973.

The reciprocal agreement will allow students to enroll at Lewis and Clark (public college) for their first two years of college work, but actually attend classes on the Blackburn (private school) campus.

It is estimated that 50 to 75 students who have enrolled at Lewis and Clark but who reside in the Carlinville, Greene, North Greene and Carrollton school districts will take transfer courses at Blackburn this fall. Upon completion of their first two years, they will receive a degree from Lewis and Clark and be eligible to enroll in Blackburn for their remaining two years.

The presidents in their statement said, "There is no question, in view of the energy crisis, that students from Macoupin and surrounding counties may benefit by attending classes nearer their home."

SUI access to close one day

The new interchange of the North Access and new Illinois 143 will be opened to traffic after the detour is removed. Kronst said the road closure should not take more than one day if weather is satisfactory. Kronst said the road closure working in the area after the road is opened to construct the shoulders in the area of the old Route 143 intersection, Kronst said.

Water purity hearing May 3

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency will hold four public hearings on the state's proposed plans for fighting water pollution during the fiscal year beginning in July 1974.

Purpose of the hearings is to allow all citizens an opportunity to comment on the preliminary water pollution control plans, according to Richard H. Briceland, director of the Illinois EPA.

The hearing schedule follows: Chicago, 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, May 1, University of Illinois Circle Campus.

Peoria, 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 1, Peoria Public Library. Edwardsville, 9:30 a.m. Friday, May 3, Sunset Hill Holiday Inn. Harrisburg, 9:30 a.m. Saturday, May 4, A. L. Bowen Center Administration Building.

"We hope all interested persons will tell us what they think about our preliminary plan for water pollution control and will recommend changes they would like," Briceland said. He continued:

"The final plan won't be developed until this June, and we will consider all comments from the public hearings when we write that final plan."

"We at the Illinois EPA realize the importance both of sound planning and of citizen support to any public program. "We know the people of Illinois want cleaner, healthier rivers and streams, and we are holding these hearings in order to see how citizens react to our proposed plans."

The proposal includes several new activities for the Illinois EPA water pollution control staff, such as a special study of water quality in publicly-owned lakes.

"To many citizens, the most important bodies of water in their lives are the lakes near their homes where they enjoy swimming, boating and fishing and from which they obtain their drinking water," Briceland said.

"Water quality in several such Illinois lakes has dropped in recent years, as indicated by nuisance growths of algae and other plants and by declining numbers of fish."

Other sections of the water pollution control program plan include:

—A continued program of grants to assist municipalities in construction of sewage treatment facilities.

—A continued enforcement effort when alleged polluters fail to implement effective pollution control programs.

—An expanded system of sampling and monitoring of rivers and streams to determine the type and extent of pollution. —Continued emphasis on assisting in the training of sewage treatment plant operators.

Complete copies of the plan are available from Briceland's office at 2200 Churchill Rd., Springfield 62706.

Briceland emphasized that written comments concerning the proposed plan also are being requested from persons who might be able to attend one of the public hearings.

Reading Council dinner tonight

The annual spring meeting and dinner of the Madison-St. Clair County Reading Council will be held tonight at 6:30 at the new Holiday Inn on Route 157 near I-70.

Dr. David Allen, nationally known speaker and author, will be guest speaker. He is presently at the University of Missouri and is working in educational research on improving reading and language arts.

His topic will be: "Reading instruction in the 70s. Have we put the cart before the horse?" Mrs. Jean Hall, president of the St. Clair-Madison County Reading Council, will host the dinner meeting. Parents, teachers, teacher aides, principals, superintendents and all persons interested in teaching improvement may attend.

Honor Tarris at dinner

Among the 236 people attending were his father, Tony Tarris, 88, of Granite City; his brother, Paul Tarris of Fort Worth, Tex., and his niece Mrs. Dave Vincent of Troy.

George Gentz acted as master of ceremonies and representatives from Alton, Wood River, and Southern Illinois credit unions were in attendance. Several gifts and a check were presented to Tarris.

Seedbed work next at farms in county

By WARREN W. BUNDY
Madison County Farm Advisor Main farm field activities last week in Madison county were spraying wheat fields for wild garlic control, spreading nitrogen fertilizer on wheat, and spraying alfalfa fields for alfalfa weevil control.

Most fields were too wet last week to allow farmers to begin seedbed preparation.

Alfalfa weevil this year is a serious problem about one week earlier than usual.

It is one insect we can't fool around with to see if the problem will go away. It will get worse instead of better.

Treatment to control alfalfa weevil is needed when 25 per cent or more of the tips of plants are being chewed up by tiny green worms.

Any of eight different insecticides give good control of alfalfa weevil. They may be applied by airplane or by ground equipment. Your agricultural dealer, custom applicator, or county extension adviser can tell you the insecticides to use.

The waiting period between time of applying the insecticide and harvest ranges up to 16 days, depending upon the material used. Follow all label instructions.

Alfalfa weevil is a problem only on alfalfa. All alfalfa fields should be checked frequently from now until mid-June to determine if control measures are needed.

You still have a few days to treat wheat fields for wild garlic control and to apply nitrogen fertilizer to wheat. It's somewhat late for those tasks, and they should be completed by the end of April. Do not treat wheat with 2,4-D after it reaches the "boot" stage.

Grain farmers are reminded that aldrin, heptachlor, and chlordane still carry legal labels for use as corn soil insecticides.

Hearings on aldrin have been under way by the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency since last August. They are expected to continue for several months.

But because of insect resistance, possible insecticide residue carryover into succeeding crops, and limited yield returns, we advise against the use of aldrin, heptachlor and chlordane as corn soil insecticides.

You should not plant soybeans on land that received an aldrin or heptachlor treatment last year plus one other year within the last five years.

Residues of these insecticides are absorbed by the soybean plant and are stored in the oil of the seed. The residues present do not constitute a public health problem, but they are illegal residues.

In no case should you plant soybeans on land that has received an aldrin or heptachlor soil treatment during the current crop year.

It is illegal for dairy farmers to use or store for agricultural purposes aldrin, chlordane, dieldrin, endrin, heptachlor or lindane on their farms.

The ten highest producing herds in Madison County Dairy Herd Improvement in March are owned by Mrs. Freda Linenbroker, Harold and Carl Baumann, Clarence Iberg, O. John Plocher, Henry Zoelzer, George Daiber, John J. Hediger, Elmer Schaack and Son, Jim Beane and Leland Steiner.

The herd of Mrs. Freda Linenbroker was high for the month with 1.96 pounds of butterfat per cow per day.

The Linenbroker herd of 40 cows averaged 49.2 pounds of milk per cow per day, with an average butterfat test of 3.98.

VEGA. LOWEST PRICED CAR MADE IN AMERICA.

Vega has a lower list price than any other car made in the U.S.A.

$2380.

That's the Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price for the Vega Notchback Coupe, including dealer new vehicle preparation charge. Destination charges, optional equipment, state or local taxes are additional. Other Vega models are available, of course. Such as the popular Vega Hatchback at $2492.

The quality and value of Chevrolet.

Vega makes as much sense for what it gives you as for what it doesn't cost you. Steel side guard beams in each door. Double-panel steel roof. Front disc brakes. A Full Coil suspension for a good ride. A wide stance and low center of gravity for stability and good handling. Molded full foam front bucket seats.

And a few surprises for the money.

Carpeting. Floor-mounted shift and hand brake controls. A sporty-looking instrument panel. And our overhead cam aluminum block four-cylinder engine which is both economical and responsive.

29.8 mpg

Yes, Vega Hatchback did get 29.8 miles per gallon. Results of recent Chevrolet fuel economy tests show an average of 29.8 miles per gallon for Vega at a steady speed of 55 miles per hour, the maximum Federal speed. In simulated suburban city driving (average speed 24 mph with 1.6 stops per mile), Vega averaged 26.5 mpg.

Engineers conducted the tests at our Proving Grounds. Cars were Vega Hatchbacks equipped with standard engine and transmission and popular options. In all tests, cars carried the weight of two passengers. Of course the mileage you'll get depends on how and where you drive.

Vega's fuel economy, coupled with its standard 16-gallon-rated fuel tank, offers the kind of driving range that makes lots of sense today.

A real value. Vega is a comfortable, solid little car that's a lot of fun to drive and goes a long way on a gallon of gas. It just happens, to have a very low price.

The Vega Notchback Coupe. Test drive it at your Chevy dealer's.
